Actively grasp the major projects in China, and develop business and create profits with complete planning and professional technology.

(II) Expected Sales and Basis:

Anticipated Sales and Rationale:

Container Transportation Division:

It is expected that in the second half of 2024, inflation is expected to slow down, inventory digestion will come to an end, global demand for commodities will recover, which will lead to trade growth, and market supply and demand will return to normal, with an increase in import and export volume.

Heavy machinery transport and lifting:

In 2024, Heavy Machinery's major businesses are as follows: transportation of equipment for natural gas outlets in northern Taiwan, barge transportation of heavy loads for power plant units in southern Taiwan, transportation of power plants in central Taiwan, transportation of imported equipment for the MRT's San-Ying Line and the second phase of the power plant in Tainan, moving of train compartments in the National Railway Museum, and rental of barges, among others.

(III) Important Production and Marketing Policies:

Container Transportation Division:

All container transport equipment used by our company are tractor-trailer trucks that meet environmental standards to reduce carbon emissions. In order to enhance transport safety, we have installed front and rear blind zone warning systems on all tractor-trailer trucks, which are replaced with new ones every year according to the safe depreciation life. We provide drivers with occasional education and training in professional transport and safety lectures, and our internal controls include a driver safety bonus and energy-saving fuel consumption bonus to encourage drivers to comply with driving safety, reduce carbon emissions, and enhance driver and cargo safety. We are actively studying the possibility of introducing new energy vehicles in the hope that we can take the lead in the industry and make advance preparations for the new transport situation in the next generation.

Heavy machinery transport and lifting:

We actively support and cooperate with government policies, such as the expansion and renovation of Taipower and private power plants, the construction of LNG receiving terminals, the expansion of MRT network carriage transport, and the transport of wind turbines. At the same time, we also take the initiative to conduct preliminary research and planning with property owners to ensure continuous communication, conduct data evaluation, and provide immediate advice in order to obtain the best opportunities for bidding projects. In order to enhance our competitiveness and market share in the market and effectively utilise our marketing resources and execution capabilities, we have entered into a strategic partnership with Giant Heavy Machinery, a reinvested affiliate, to expand our market, secure business opportunities, enhance profitability, and achieve further success.

Heavy machinery transport and lifting:

In response to the government's energy development towards a greater proportion of green energy, our Heavy Machinery Division is also actively looking for opportunities to contact offshore wind power developers, equipment manufacturers and installation companies, in the hope that we can have a more comprehensive enhancement in the loading and unloading, transport, storage site construction management and marine vessel capabilities.....etc.

(V) Impact of external competitive environment, regulatory environment, and overall business environment:

Container Transportation Division

1. Impact of external competition: In addition to price cutting by the same industry, the shortage of labour and decrease in population have led to a significant decrease in the number of drivers willing to work in the container transport industry and the retirement of existing drivers, resulting in an increase in operating costs.
2. Impact of regulations: In order to improve air quality, tractor-trailers used in container transport are required to comply with the latest environmental standards in the future, which will increase equipment costs.
3. Impact on the overall operating environment: The main impacts on the overall operating environment were price cuts by the same industry, increase in equipment costs, and shortage of drivers.

Heavy machinery transport and lifting:

1. Influence of external competitive environment: The supply and demand of heavy machinery equipment is global, and countries such as Europe and the United States, Japan, and Korea are actively exporting technology and equipment. In recent years, Mainland China has been rapidly developing major infrastructures in Southeast Asian countries, and has been competing for bids at low prices, which has increased the pressure of competition.
2. Influence of regulatory environment: Heavy machinery and equipment transport is a project nature, according to the needs of each project, applying for approval of the relevant units to transport. In recent years, due to the rising awareness of environmental protection, coastal transport is more prone to fishermen's protests, which affects fishing operations, and requires co-ordination through the relevant units and discretionary subsidies.
3. Impacts of the overall business environment: High equipment costs, internationalisation of competitors, and professional manpower training are impacts of the overall business environment in which this industry operates.

The company is a transport service industry, adhering to the "customer first, safety first, service-oriented" business philosophy, give full play to the excellent service established over the years, combined with the transport industry, together to create a good result.

I would like to wish you all good health and good luck.

 - B. Shipside operations - inland transportation of containers within the port terminals where each shipping container ship is berthed or to adjacent container distribution yards.
 - C. (CY) Import and export operations of cargo owners - the import and export containers of each cargo owner are transported inland between each cargo owner's factory and the container distribution yard.
- (2) Heavy Machinery Transportation and Lifting Operations
 - A. Hoisting and transportation of heavy machinery:

Our customers are domestic and foreign manufacturers, professional machinery and equipment manufacturers, engineering companies, shipping companies, petrochemical plants, state-owned enterprises, etc. We are directly or indirectly entrusted with the transport and lifting of heavy and oversized machinery parts, including import customs clearance, cargo handling operations and coordination, coastal ship transport/beaching, temporary pier design and construction, bridge reinforcement design and construction, and related application operations.
 - B. Whole plant equipment transport and lifting:

Domestic and foreign manufacturers, engineering companies or shipping companies commissioned by the import or export of whole plant equipment and equipment "consistent turnkey" transport, lifting operations, including evaluation, transport and lifting of the investigation, planning, design, application and construction of civil engineering projects; domestic / foreign operating site crane arrangements, various manufacturers unloading services and various ship operators shore side unloading services and other projects.
 - C. Offshore wind power generation equipment onshore operation:

Offshore wind power is an important green energy promotion project for the government to achieve the energy transformation. Information from the Ministry of Economic Affairs shows that by the end of 2023, 283 wind turbines will have been installed, and the cumulative capacity has reached 2.25GW. In 2024, the wind farm will be constructed, and it is hoped that the public and private sectors will work together to complete the installation of 314~374 wind turbines, and the cumulative capacity will reach the goal of 2.56~3.04GW. The original target of 5.6GW of offshore wind power capacity by 2025 as set by the Energy Transformation Policy remains unchanged.

Large foreign offshore wind power investors continue to invest in Taiwan, and major domestic contractors are actively competing for the manufacture of underwater foundation piles, Monopile and Jacket, underwater equipment whose sizes and weights exceed Taiwan's previous transport and lifting experience. Our company has rich experience in transporting and lifting heavy machinery, and we have obtained many projects of lifting, unloading and transporting on the shore of piers.

D. Coastal Vessel Transportation:

Coastal vessel transport allows more diversified choices for the transport of large heavy machinery parts. With years of experience, the company has become the best partner for domestic and foreign customers. The number of vessels owned by the company, including powered tugboats, workboats, and unpowered platform barges, has reached 8, which is considered a small scale in China, and this allows for a more flexible arrangement and matching of transport modes.

(3) Foreign wine import business.

A.Import Agency

We are committed to securing Taiwan distributorships for quality brands from major wine-producing countries around the world in order to meet Taiwan's wine market demand.

B. Distribution Locations

Our distribution network covers all parts of the province, with centralised warehousing and professional logistics, and our marketing channels are diversified throughout Taiwan, covering tobacco and liquor shops, supermarkets, and catering distribution networks, to provide more immediate and comprehensive services.

C. Retail

We set up a directly-managed store, "Sea & Land Fashion Distillery", to provide consumers with face-to-face, direct sales and promotional services.

D. Wine Tasting Promotion

a. Organise various wine-tasting dinners, invite foreign winery winemakers and brand ambassadors to conduct professional training for the business team, and through wine-tasting dinners or seminars, directly introduce the wine brewing process and winery background to consumers, and personally get to know the feelings of the Taiwanese consumers after the tasting, so that we can better understand the market demand in Taiwan.

b. Participate in large-scale professional wine exhibitions and large-scale wine tastings in Taiwan.

c. In-depth promotion of large and small enterprises in Taiwan by organising wine tasting courses.

(4) Others

The company's petrol station in Changhua is small but stable in business.

Warehousing: Located in the Kaohsiung branch office, serving long-term customers.

The company rents out real estate properties, including commercial offices in Taipei and factory offices in Xizhi, which generate stable income for the company.

4. Projects planned for development: No project has been planned for development in the short term.

(II) Industry Overview

1. Current situation and development of the industry:

(1) Container transportation

Container inland transportation and container shipping are highly interconnected, and both are affected by factors such as the global cargo trade climate (inflation, interest rate hikes, de-stocking, and consumer contraction) and major international events (e.g., U.S.-China rivalry, geopolitical conflicts, and the U.S.-Russia war). As a result, the current container volume has remained low, which is unfavourable to freight rates, and has led to intensified pricing competition and market share rivalries among the automotive container transport industry, which has had a direct impact on the company's revenues.

The transport industry is highly sensitive to oil prices. Persistently high oil prices, labour shortages/wage increases, challenges to labour laws and regulations, and increases in equipment costs and warranty fees are all key factors affecting profitability. However, the imbalance in the volume of southbound and northbound containers has also resulted in a loss of capacity. While the market is facing all these challenges, it is also a good time to weed out the weak and retain the strong. In the long run, there is a better chance of normalising supply and demand and reducing unhealthy competition.

However, medium and large customers have begun to pay attention to ESG issues, and the Company has been actively promoting this issue in advance and has begun to gain recognition from customers, which will certainly bring customers and the Company closer together and mitigate the impact of price competition among the industry.

(2) Heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business

A. Heavy equipment transport refers to the use of special transport tools for the transport of oversized, ultra-wide, ultra-long and ultra-heavy large-scale machinery and equipment, must overcome the obstacles of transport space and road limitations, so that the value of expensive machinery and equipment can be quickly, safely and economically delivered to the destination. Our company's services include all services at the starting point, transport routes and final points, as well as unloading and lifting of machinery onto the foundation platforms, including storage, handling and unloading of goods. Therefore, prior assessment, investigation, planning, design and application of heavy equipment transport and lifting is a very important part of heavy equipment transport work.

B. Taiwan's new energy policy needs to first stabilise the original energy source. In recent years, the Company has participated in the Government's completion of the upgrading of the Xingda and Taichung power plants and private power plants, as well as the upgrading of several generating units at the Taoyuan large-scale power plant, which is nearing operational status. In addition, the Company is also expected to obtain projects for natural gas receiving stations in Hsinchu, Taichung and Taoyuan.

C. The installation of large-scale lifting and unloading equipment at various ports, such as large-scale coal unloaders, is directly entrusted to equipment vendors for transport and lifting (installation) works. The Company has accumulated sufficient experience in barging and transport in this field and is expected to undertake related projects in the future.

D. In light of the increasing proportion of Taiwan's energy development towards green energy, the Company is also actively seeking opportunities. We are in the process of approaching offshore wind power plants, equipment manufacturers and installation companies in anticipation of more comprehensive enhancement in loading and unloading, transportation, storage site construction management and marine vessel capabilities.

(3) Foreign wine import business

With the opening of the border, consumers are traveling abroad one after another, and the duty-free channel market is becoming more active. Increase the frequency of foreign alcohol purchases by the general public and diversify consumption towards other duty-free goods, relatively reducing the consumption market for domestic gatherings, alcohol consumption, and local alcohol specialty stores. Therefore, in 2023, the prosperity of the alcohol retail market is gradually cooling off, and the industry generally feels pessimistic about the operating prospects in the first half of 2024.

In 2023, facing the phenomenon of "cold business, cold auctions, and rising prices", inflation has tightened consumer demand, auction houses are deserted, sky high bidding is no longer seen, and the Russia Ukraine war has pushed up raw material and transportation costs, resulting in an increase in imported alcohol prices. The whisky market is in a complex situation. Looking forward to a rebound in the second half of 2024, boosting consumer demand and revitalizing the market.

2. Relevance of upstream, midstream and downstream industries

(1) Container transportation

Container transportation can be divided into two types: export and import, and is carried by domestic automobile container transportation companies. Currently, the larger inland container transportation companies in China mainly include Weilian Transportation, Sea and Land Company, Evergreen Storage and Transportation, and other companies. The export process of container transportation is carried out by domestic cargo manufacturers or export traders. When the production of goods is completed, the empty containers are first towed to the factory by the automobile container transportation company for loading. When the containers are loaded, they are then transported to the container consolidation yard designated or coordinated by the container carrier for customs clearance. This stage of transportation is called the (CY) cargo owner import and export operation. The container carrier then entrusts a car container transportation company to transport the containers from the container consolidation yard to the container terminal where the carrier ships are docked (or adjacent to). This stage of transportation is called transfer operation (divided into short, medium, and long distance according to distance). The loading and unloading of containers by container carriers at the port, as well as the connection between different terminals or adjacent container yards at the port, are referred to as ship side operations.

The import process of container transportation is the opposite of the export process mentioned above, except that the empty containers unloaded by the (CY) shipper need to be towed to the empty container consolidation yard instructed or coordinated by the container carrier.

(2) Heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business

The transportation and hoisting business of heavy machinery mainly involves inland transportation, coastal ship transportation, and hoisting operations of heavy oversized machinery, factory equipment, etc. commissioned by domestic/foreign equipment manufacturers, engineering contractors, international logistics companies, or shipping companies, and mainly involves import transportation operations. The import transportation process involves lifting heavy machinery and goods that have arrived at the port onto trailer racks or special self-propelled multi axle hydraulic racks for inland transportation. If coastal ships are used for transportation, it is the operation of lifting and securing onto a platform barge, transporting to a temporary dock near the completed construction site, and then using large machinery and special self-propelled multi axis oil pressure plate frames to move ashore, carrying and transporting to a designated location, unloading or lifting it onto the foundation platform. This also includes the transportation of general goods from port terminals to designated locations by flatbed trailers, and assistance in customs related applications and coordination.

The export transportation process is mostly short distance transportation, and the final step is to transport the heavy machinery cargo to the side of the heavy cargo ship and hoist it onto the heavy cargo ship. In addition, there are still some customers who need to move within the factory area for short periods of time, and the work is relatively simple.

(3) Foreign wine import business

The business of importing foreign wine is mainly the business of purchasing and importing foreign wine from importers, and then entrusting midstream distributors or wholesale merchants to distribute it to downstream retail outlets.

3. Development trends and competition of products

(1) Container transportation

A. Product development trends and competition (not products, but transportation services).

B. Competition status:

CY cargo owner's inland transportation of import and export containers:

The main focus is on short- and medium-distance regional transportation, and the proportion of cargo owners from small and medium-sized enterprises (with small container volumes) is relatively high, resulting in a low entry threshold for truck container transportation. You can own as little as one car, which makes the market more complex.

However, for cargo owners with small container volumes, their sensitivity to freight rates and bargaining power are low, and the relative gross profit of freight rates can still be maintained. But for medium and large customers, they need a truck container transportation company with good carrying capacity to meet their needs, so there are relatively few competitors. However, due to limited differences among competitors and fierce price competition, freight gross profits are prone to decline.

Transshipment and intra-container transportation:

Transshipment mainly serves shipping companies, but since inland transportation requires medium and long-distance carrying capabilities, medium and large truck container companies are mainly used. Therefore, there are not many peers in the same industry, but the phenomenon of price competition is still as mentioned above.

The key to whether transshipment can be profitable lies in "stable daily traffic volume and reduced idleness" and "balance between southbound and northbound transportation and reduce empty trips".

(2) Heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business

A. Product development trends and competition (not products, but transportation services).

B. Competition:

Since general container transportation companies are mainly engaged in the import and export container business and lack experience in transporting heavy machinery parts, there are relatively few heavy machinery parts for bulk transportation equipment such as flatbed trucks and special low-floor trailers. The company has extensive experience in heavy machinery transportation and hoisting operations, has a large number of special low-floor transportation equipment and self-propelled multi-axis hydraulic racks, and has a small coastal ship transportation fleet, so whether it is containers or parts, the entire factory can Loading and unloading, and providing the best ground transportation solution depending on the shape of the cargo, which may be lighter or mixed. The carrying capacity is the most comprehensive and diversified company in Taiwan. However, as domestic small and medium-sized transportation companies have continued to purchase transportation equipment and special low-board transportation equipment in recent years, there are more and more competitors for small projects. But as far as large-scale projects are concerned, the company's competitors are actually large foreign manufacturers, and the number of domestic companies with the same quality is limited.

(3) Foreign wine import business

A. Development trend:

Customized products to meet different channel needs.

B. Competition:

It is difficult to establish brand loyalty for alcohol products, and in addition to consumers' preference for the taste of the wine they want to purchase, factors that can affect consumers' decision to purchase, including the packaging of the wine, vintage or distillation year, age, brand awareness, production area, brewing raw materials (grape varieties or grains), bottle label and packaging design, bottle shape and so on, may affect the consumption behavior.

(III) Overview of technology and research and development:

1. Heavy machinery transportation and lifting business

In order to enhance team competition and cooperation planning, it is planned to negotiate with cooperative investment partners to purchase new hydraulic plate erection equipment, train new technical personnel, master new technologies, and improve team transportation efficiency and capabilities. At the same time, we update equipment, continue to cultivate maritime talents, improve the quality of the fleet and team, and maintain long-term sustainable competitive advantages.

2. Foreign wine import business

Due to the rapid growth of the whiskey market worldwide, it is proposed to increase the development of the new agent role for distilleries and new products. On wines, it is planned to add products from New World countries to meet consumer demand

(IV) Long-term and short-term business development plans:

1. Container transportation

We will continue to replace old traction vehicles with new ones to maintain the safety of customers' goods and drivers' operations, In terms of vehicles, we will continue to replace old ones with new ones and introduce new vehicles that are the safest and have the latest environmental protection standards. Only by continuously recruiting new people, cultivating talents, and optimizing employee salaries, benefits, and working environment can an enterprise with sustainable talents be sustainable.

To improve work efficiency and quality, we will continue promoting computerized operations, fully mobilize and computerize the dispatch system, and integrate it with the accounting system to streamline the operation process and improve work efficiency and quality.

2. Heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business

We will continue purchasing heavy machinery transportation equipment, and cooperates strategically with foreign heavy machinery manufacturers. In addition, we are seeking strategic alliances and cooperation with large domestic lifting companies to support each other, reduce competition, reduce the cost of lifting equipment, and increase profit margins.

We will continue training professional manpower, and improve professional service and competitiveness. In addition to strengthening business development with existing excellent equipment, the Company constantly monitors market demand, purchase equipment at appropriate times to meet market demand, and lease from abroad expensive machinery that is not frequently used to effectively control costs and strive for the maximum profit.

The integration of business, planning, and operations for the entire plant's heavy equipment and transportation and hoisting operations in power plants, petrochemical plants, steelmaking plants and offshore wind power plants can achieve a trinity synergy and effectively utilize technology as well as equipment performance and planning capabilities, and improve timeliness and profits, in order to strive for transportation and hoisting projects for major domestic construction, and enhance our ability to expand overseas business.

3. Foreign wine import business

(1) Short-term development plan

Continue to sell existing inventory, and eliminate products with slow profit and turnover.

(2) Long-term development plan

Deepen brand building and hold wine tasting and tasting parties as the long-term promotion direction.

II. Market Overview and Production and Sales Status:

(I) Market Analysis:

1. Sales (supply) areas of key products (services)

| Sales and supply areas | Service item |
|------------------------|---|
| Domestic area | Container transportation Heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business Gas station business Foreign wine import business Other: warehousing and leasing businesses |

2. Market share and future supply and demand status and growth of the market

(1) Container transportation

The number of containers is closely related to global trade in goods. Affected by the global economy, there are many uncertainties in the future and it is difficult to predict. However, the rigid demand for containerized goods (such as people's daily necessities) has always accounted for a relatively high proportion, so there is no need to be too pessimistic about the future. Although there are many truck container transportation companies, the number of medium and large-scale counterparts with good systems is limited, and each company has a certain market share. Not much should change in the short term. However, the economic downturn during this period will inevitably lead to the elimination of the weak and the survival of the strong. Therefore, as long as the company continues to optimize its efforts to attract and retain talent, develop carrying capacity, and maintain good customer relationships, the company's future growth and market share gains should be optimistic.

(2) Heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business

The government continues to promote a comprehensive "forward-looking infrastructure design plan" with the goal of formulating the country's long-term development needs for the next 30 years. Projects such as the Ankeng Line Light Rail, Kaohsiung Light Rail Phase 2, Taoyuan MRT Green Line, Kaohsiung MRT Gangshan Road Bamboo Extension Line, and the addition of the third terminal of the Airport MRT all involve heavy machinery for transportation and lifting. We continue to pay attention to business opportunities and actively promote related transportation projects.

In terms of the offshore power generation acceleration plan, we seek opportunities to cooperate with foreign wind turbine equipment manufacturers and hope to learn maritime engineering related technologies; we also cooperate with strategic alliances with domestic supply chain manufacturers, including steel structure manufacturers, ship manufacturers, professional Engineering Company, hoping to achieve common prosperity and win-win results.

The company also continues to track relevant plans of domestic private power plants and state-owned power companies, and seeks to cooperate with equipment manufacturers and contractors to promote construction opportunities.

(3) Foreign wine import business

According to the alcohol consumption statistical report released by the Statistics Department of the Ministry of Economic Affairs (released in May 2023), Taiwan's alcohol consumption demand is huge. With Taiwan's accession to the WTO and the opening up of alcohol imports, domestic alcohol sales have dropped by nearly 20 percentage points in the past decade. It can be seen that the share of imported wine is increasing year by year; in terms of quantity, imported beer accounts for the majority; in terms of import value, whiskey imports have exceeded 10 billion ntd in recent years, ranking first among all types of alcohol. The Ministry of Economic Affairs stated that imported wine is actively expanding its market, starting from daytime channels such as supermarkets, mass merchandisers, and specialty stores, and entering nighttime markets such as nightclubs and bars, as people's income levels increase and their acceptance of high-priced wine increases, imported wine has gradually become an important core of my country's drinking culture. In August last year, according to export data for the first half of 2023 released by the Scotch Whiskey Association SWA, the Asia-Pacific region imported a total of 857 million pounds of whiskey, an increase of 13.5% over the same period last year, ranking first in the world. Taiwan, located in the Asia-Pacific, still "emphasizes quality over quantity", with import volume of 149 million pounds/approximately NT$5.9 billion, an increase of 21.4% over the same period last year. Ranking the fourth largest exporter of Scotch whiskey in the world, this view is quite representative of Taiwan's whiskey market.

3. Competitive niche, favorable and unfavorable factors of development perspective and countermeasures

(1) Container transportation

In terms of transportation, we continue to introduce the latest and best and maintain the best condition of equipment; in terms of talents, we continue to attract good talents and actively improve training performance; in terms of customer relations, we maintain good and long-term relationships; we establish long-term partnerships with suppliers and peers; Maintaining a certain proportion of external vehicles to make the carrying capacity more flexible; continuing to optimize the management system and introducing new technologies, especially information technology; actively pursuing sustainable development in ESG, these are our competitive niches , which is also a favorable condition for our development. Of course, there are also some unfavorable factors, such as price-cutting competition among peers. We have adapted our methods to avoid falling into price wars. Low prices and low profits will be detrimental to equipment improvement and talent attraction. Therefore, peers who can only cut prices and compete cannot continue to operate sustainably.

(2) Heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business

We have extensive experience and capabilities in the transportation and lifting of heavy machinery. In addition to seeking cooperation with foreign technical installation companies, as long as the market continues to carry out major projects in the future, we will definitely be able to obtain considerable business opportunities. In addition, domestic offshore wind power projects and infrastructure in emerging markets in Asia urgently require heavy-duty transportation services, which is also a future business opportunity for the company. The company will continue to expand new service areas and strengthen internal operations and management efficiency, hoping to achieve good results in the fiercely competitive environment.

A. Favorable factors:

- a. This department has the ability to execute major projects and special equipment with large carrying capacity, and can fully cooperate and meet customer needs. Among them, in addition to the hydraulic lifting racks with a carrying capacity of 2,820 tons, the special racks also have a tug-barge fleet combination of 3,200 tons, 1,200 tons, and 600 tons tugs and barges. Continue to purchase necessary heavy equipment and continuously improve service capabilities.

b. Sufficient experience in transportation and hoisting of heavy machinery:

The Company has many years of experience in cooperating with various transportation companies in Japan, Europe and the United States, and has drawn on their excellent professional knowledge; this, coupled with our cultivation of professional talents, makes the Company's professional ability stand out among its peers. In particular, we have gained valuable experience in more than a decade in transporting the petrochemical equipment of Formosa Plastics and China Petrochemical Development Corporation, as well as Taiwan Power's power plant equipment, electric locomotives, incinerators, rapid transit and high-speed rail projects.

c. Climate change and low-carbon transformation are the most severe economic and social challenges facing the world. The Taiwan government has actively transformed energy sources, increased investment in green energy, increased deductible carbon taxes, and therefore increased the export capacity of Taiwanese businesses. Sea & Land is still present in this wave of energy transformation, actively engaging in onshore transportation and assembly operations for offshore wind power generation, and purchasing large transportation barges to join the transportation team. In addition, we integrate transportation and installation industries to actively participate in large-scale loading and unloading work at commercial ports.

B. Unfavorable factors:

a. Lateral competition: Low-cost competition and equipment expansion of peers has increased the competitive pressure.

Countermeasures:

1. Improve business planning capabilities and effectively reduce unnecessary manpower. Improve the smoothness of machinery operation and application to reduce costs and increase profits.
2. Actively cultivate and make plans for talents to respond to future industrial shocks and possible transformation opportunities.
3. Strengthen the cultivation of professional abilities in heavy equipment transportation, installation and towing technology, and grasp the technological opportunities.
4. Strive for a one-stop process during business negotiations to increase work opportunities and profits.

b. Operational competition:

Due to globalization and the active export of technology and equipment from Asian countries, competitors from Europe, US, Japan, South Korea, mainland China and Taiwan all actively invest in engineering and construction. In the past, large-scale infrastructure projects in Southeast Asian countries were mostly obtained by Japanese and Korean businesses through technology transfer, with low profits made. In recent years, mainland China has actively invested in major infrastructure construction in Southeast Asian countries, and in addition to using technology, low-price bidding, low-interest loans or lending, Chinese companies obtain projects through the turnkey method of manpower export and incentives, making it difficult for other countries to compete. Under the policy of the Belt and Road Initiative in mainland China and the effect of the establishment of the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank, domestic and foreign competitive pressures have increased sharply.

Countermeasures:

Strengthen cooperation opportunities and relationships with key contractors of major domestic projects, and increase opportunities and profits through strategic alliances. As the government advocates green energy, we actively participate in wind power generation and have planned dozens of wind farms on the west coast of Taiwan, and will erect hundreds of wind turbines at sea in the next decade or two. The Heavy Machinery Division continues to monitor market development, seeks future niches in peripheral businesses such as transportation vessels, onshore loading, unloading and warehousing, and actively seeks strategic alliances to strive for offshore cable laying, wind turbine installation and other opportunities.

At the same time, we will hold on to our existing advantages, and continue contacting relevant equipment manufacturers and cargo contractors to search for material construction information from the government in order to strive for major domestic construction opportunities.

In the foreign part, we actively seek domestic companies expanding their factories overseas to assist in equipment export, and strive for overseas equipment transportation and hoisting operations in cooperation with Japanese merchants who are deepening their basic engineering business in Southeast Asia.

(3) Foreign wine import business

A. Favorable factors:

- a. Huge consumption potential: In recent years, the market's "expectations" for whiskey have changed significantly. Many expensive, rare and collectible whiskeys are quite popular in Taiwan, and even the resale prices in the secondary market have increased again. The rise has attracted strong attention from the Scotch whiskey industry, recognizing Taiwan's huge consumption potential in high-end whiskey.
- b. Emphasis on quality over quantity: Recently, a new phenomenon has emerged in Taiwan's alcohol market. Various brands are committed to cultivating the loyalty of young people. As the young people grow older and improve their economic capabilities, they will be guided into higher price points and a purer realm of awakening culture.

B. Disadvantage factors:

The overall wine market has been significantly affected, including the epidemic and price increases in the past two years, which have led to hoarding of alcohol products and reduced market liquidity.

Countermeasures

Compared with Asian countries, Taiwan's whiskey market is relatively mature. Coupled with the trend of the younger generation with spending power who "do not pursue heavy drinking and prefer to taste whiskey in an aristocratic and creative way", a vibrant wine tasting and consumption industry has been redeveloped. It can be seen that the market is developing in a diversified manner, and only by actively developing wineries in various production areas and seeking to increase agency rights can we respond to changing market demands.

Note :As of the date of printing of the annual report, The Company's financial information for the first quarter of 2024 has not yet been reviewed by CPAs

Please explain the reasons for the changes in various financial ratios in the most recent two years (not required if the increase or decrease is less than 20%):

- (1) Quick ratio: The quick ratio was mainly due to the decrease in cash from the cash dividend of NT$104,877 thousand distributed by the Parent Company in 2023, and the purchase of special products by the subsidiary, Sea & Land Wine & Spirits, for a total amount of approximately NT$80,000 thousand due to the need of business strategy, which resulted in a decrease in current assets and an increase in inventory in 2023 as compared to that in 2022, resulting in a decrease in the quick ratio.
- (2) Accounts receivable turnover rate and average collection days: The main reason was that the Group's average accounts receivable decreased by NT$170,199 thousand in 2023 compared to 2022, and net sales decreased by NT$154,266 thousand in 2023 compared to 2022, resulting in an increase of 1.83 times in the accounts receivable turnover rate in 2023 compared to 2022, and a decrease in the average number of days to collect cash in 2023 compared to 2022.
- (3) Inventory turnover rate and average number of days of sales: Mainly due to the fact that the subsidiary Sea & Land Wine & Spirits purchased special edition products totaling approximately NT$80,000 thousand for business strategy purposes., the inventory turnover rate decreased by 1.73 times in 2023 as compared with that of 2022, and the average number of days of sales increased accordingly.

- (4) Accounts payable turnover ratio: The Group's average accounts payable decreased by NT$90,982 thousand in 2023 compared to 2022 and operating costs decreased by NT$113,413 thousand in 2023 compared to 2022, resulting in an increase of 1.42 times in the accounts payable turnover ratio in 2023 compared to 2022.
- (5) Cash flow ratio: The Group's net cash flow from operating activities decreased by NT$259,296 thousand in 2023 as compared to 2022 and current liabilities increased by NT$35,493 thousand in 2023 as compared to 2022, resulting in a decrease in cash flow ratio of 47.30%.
- (6) Cash reinvestment ratio: The main reason was that the Group's operating income in 2023 decreased by NT$39,608 thousand as compared to 2022, and the Group distributed cash dividends of NT$112,380 thousand in 2023, which resulted in a decrease of 1.71% in the cash reinvestment ratio.
- (7) Operating leverage: The main reason was that the Group's revenue in 2023 decreased by NT$154,266 thousand as compared to 2022, and the operating profit decreased by NT$39,608 thousand, which resulted in an increase in operating leverage as compared to the same period last year.

Please explain the reasons for the changes in various financial ratios in the most recent two years (not required if the increase or decrease is less than 20%):

- (1) Accounts receivable turnover and average collection days: The average receivable in 2023 decreased by NT$163,098 thousand and net sales in 2023 decreased by NT$97,713 thousand compared with that in 2022, which resulted in the increase of accounts receivable turnover rate in 2023 by 1.83 times compared with that in 2022 and the decrease of average collection days.
- (2) Inventory turnover rate and average days of sales: The main reason was that the Company's average inventory in 2023 was NT$440 thousand lower than that in 2022, and the cost of goods sold in 2023 was NT$802 thousand lower than that in 2022, which resulted in an increase of 14.32 times in the inventory turnover rate of 2023 compared with that of 2022, and a decrease in the average number of days of sales as a result.
- (3) Accounts payable turnover ratio: The increase in accounts payable turnover ratio of 1.43 times was mainly due to the decrease in average accounts payable of NT$85,139 thousand in 2023 compared to 2022 and the decrease in operating costs of NT$83,141 thousand in 2023 compared to 2022.

- (4) Cash flow ratio: The cash flow ratio decreased by 12.58% mainly due to the decrease of NT$59,725 thousand in net cash flow from operating activities in 2023 compared to 2022 and the increase of NT$1,805 thousand in current liabilities in 2023 compared to 2022.
- (5) Cash reinvestment ratio: The cash reinvestment ratio increased in 2023 compared to 2022 mainly because the Company distributed cash dividends of NT$322,697 thousand in 2022.
- (6) Operating leverage: The operating leverage of 2023 increased compared to the same period last year mainly due to the decrease in net sales of NT$97,713 thousand in 2023 and the decrease in operating profit of NT$24,360 thousand in 2023 compared to the same period in 2022.

Formula for calculation

 - (2) Ratio of long-term funds to property, plant and equipment = (total equity + non-current liabilities) / net property, plant and equipment
2. Solvency
 - (1) Current ratio = current assets / current liabilities.
 - (2) Quick ratio = (current assets - inventory - prepaid expenses) / current liabilities
 - (3) Interest coverage ratio = net income before income tax and interest expense / current interest expense
3. Business ability

 - (2) Average cash collection days = 365 / receivable turnover rate
 - (3) Inventory turnover rate = cost of goods sold / average inventory amount
 - (4) Payables (including accounts payable and notes payable arising from operations) turnover rate = cost of goods sold / average balance of payables (including accounts payable and notes payable arising from operations) for each period
 - (5) Average days of sales = 365 / inventory turnover rate
 - (6) Property, plant and equipment turnover rate = net sales / average net property, plant and equipment
 - (7) Total asset turnover rate = net sales / average total assets
4. Profitability
 - (1) Return on assets = [profit and loss after tax + interest expense × (1 - tax rate)] / average total assets
 - (2) Return on shareholders' equity = profit or loss after tax / average net shareholders' equity
 - (3) Profit ratio = profit or loss after tax / net sales
 - (4) Earnings per share = (profit after tax-preference stock dividends) / weighted average number of issued shares
5. Cash flow
 - (1) Cash flow ratio = net cash flow from operating activities / current liabilities
 - (2) Net cash flow adequacy ratio = net cash flow from operating activities for the most recent five years / capital expenditure + inventory increase + cash dividends for the most recent five years
 - (3) Cash reinvestment ratio = (net cash flow from operating activities - cash dividends) / (gross amount of property, plant and equipment + long-term investment + other assets + working capital)

1. Funds and investments: An increase of NT$128,471 thousand in 2023 compared with 2022, mainly due to the recognition of investment income of NT$113,406 thousand using the equity method in 2023 and the increase in investments using the equity method of NT$52,172 thousand.
2. Long-term liabilities: 2023 increased by NT$61,557 thousand yuan compared with 2022, mainly due to the parent company's increase in long-term borrowings of NT$61,561 thousand yuan due to operational needs

II. Financial performance: The main reasons for significant changes in operating revenue, operating net income, and pre-tax net income in the most recent two years, as well as the expected sales volume and its basis, the possible impact on the Company's future financial operations, and countermeasures:

Note: Excluding realized (unrealized) sales benefits with affiliated companies.

Description of change in increase/decrease ratio: Only those with an increase/decrease ratio of 20% and a change amount exceeding NT$10,000 thousand are analyzed.

1. Reasons for the decrease in operating profit and income tax expense.

The operating net profit in 2023 decreased by 30.99% compared with that in 2022, mainly due to the decrease in operating income in 2023 by NT$154,266 thousand yuan compared with the same period last year (due to the impact of the general environment, the revenue of the parent company's transportation department in 2023 decreased by NT$216,413 thousand yuan compared with the same period last year, resulting in a gross profit margin decrease of 3.12% compared with the same period last year. In addition, the operating income of the subsidiary Land and Ocean Bank decreased by NT$65,084 thousand yuan compared with the same period last year, causing the gross profit margin to decrease by 4.05% compared with the same period last year.), combined with the above, the gross profit in 2023 decreased by NT$40,853 thousand yuan compared with 2022, and the operating profit decreased by NT$39,608 thousand yuan. At the same time, the income tax decreased compared with the same period last year.

(II) Expected sales volume and basis

The company's main business projects include: container transportation business, heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business, and foreign wine import, which are summarized as follows:

1. Container transportation business:

This business item still accounts for the largest proportion of the overall turnover. Since this business is closely dependent on the overall economy, global demand will decrease due to inventory depletion and inflation in the first half of 2024, and cargo carrying capacity will be weak. It is expected that supply and demand will recover in the second half of the year. With normalization and inflation slowing down, the container shipping business still has a chance to maintain its carrying capacity.

2. Heavy machinery transportation and hoisting business:

The main businesses that Heavy Machinery has acquired in 2024 are as follows:

Kwun Tong Petro China Natural Gas External Terminal Equipment Transportation Project, Xingda Power Plant unit heavy-duty barge transportation, Xintao Power Plant transportation project, MRT Sanying Line, Senba Power Plant Phase II imported equipment transportation, National Railway Museum carriage handling case, barge rental, etc.

3. Foreign wine import business:

After years of hard work, the company has developed a variety of products. Through sales channels across the province, the company maintains its original best-selling products, increases repurchase rates, builds consumer confidence, and continues to develop new products to expand the market.

(III) Possible impact on the Company's future financial operations and countermeasures

1. The Transportation and Warehousing Division, facing the impact of Chinese peer competition and oil price fluctuations, uses vehicle dispatch computerization to improve efficiency, and adopts a business strategy of increasing revenue and reducing costs to maintain the stable operation of the container department, and strive for new routes for other shipping companies.

2. The Company has excellent experience and ability in heavy machinery transportation and hoisting, and continuously replaces the old with new tugboat fleets for business opportunities from major engineering needs.

Over the years, the Company has experienced multiple tests of global economic downturn and competition among peers, and is well aware of the importance of strategic application. The business department continues strengthening internally to enhance its competitiveness.

III. Cash flow: Analysis and explanation of changes in cash flow in the most recent year, improvement plan for liquidity deficiency, and analysis of cash liquidity for the next year

(I) Analysis of changes in liquidity in the most recent year:

| Item \ Year | 2022 | 2021 | Increase (decrease) ratio |
|------------------------------|-------|-------|---------------------------|
| Cash flow ratio (%) | 19.53 | 66.83 | -70.78% |
| Cash flow adequacy ratio (%) | 50.57 | 56.59 | -10.64% |
| Cash reinvestment ratio (%) | 0.15 | 1.86 | -91.94% |

Cash flow ratio: This is mainly due to the fact that the Group's net cash flow from operating activities in 2023 decreased by NT$259,296 thousand yuan compared with 2022 and current liabilities in 2023 increased by NT$35,493 thousand yuan compared with 2022, resulting in a decrease in the cash flow ratio in 2023 compared with 2022.

Cash reinvestment ratio: Mainly due to the Group's 2023 operating profit decreasing by 39,608 thousand yuan compared with 2022, and the distribution of cash dividends in 2023 of NT$112,380 thousand yuan, resulting in a decrease in the cash reinvestment ratio in 2023 compared with 2022.

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Sea & Land Integrated Corp.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying parent company only balance sheets of Sea & Land Integrated Corp. (the “Company”) as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related parent company only statements of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the parent company only financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, based on our audits and the reports of other auditors (please refer to the Other matter section), the accompanying parent company only financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the parent company only financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its parent company only financial performance and its parent company only cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Company's 2023 parent company only financial statements. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the parent company only financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Company's 2023 parent company only financial statements are stated as follows:

Machinery transportation and hoisting revenue recognition - assessment on the stage of completion

Description

The Company's machinery transportation and hoisting revenue amounted to NT$565,705 thousand, constituting 34.75% of operating revenue for the year ended December 31, 2023. Refer to Note 4(25) for the accounting policy on revenue recognition; Note 5(2) for the uncertainty of accounting estimates and assumptions in relation to revenue recognition and Note 6(16) for details.

The Company's heavy machinery transportation and hoisting revenue is calculated by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity, using the percentage-of-completion method of accounting, over the contract term. The stage of completion of a construction contract is measured by the proportion of contract costs incurred for the construction performed as of the financial reporting date to the estimated total costs for the construction contract. The aforementioned estimated total costs are assessed based on the estimated construction projects, which are planned for the heavy machinery transportation and hoisting services engaged by the client, and the price fluctuations in the market to estimate the costs for each construction activity such as estimated subcontract charges and material and labour expenses.

Given that the estimate of total cost affects the stage of completion and the recognition of revenue, and the complexity of aforementioned total cost estimation usually involves subjective judgement and contains a high degree of uncertainty, we consider the assessment on the stage of completion applied on revenue recognition a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

1. Obtained an understanding on the nature of the Company's business and industry, and assessed the consistency of the estimate method and the internal process applied to estimate total cost, including the process for estimating the costs for each construction project (subcontract charges and material and labour expenses) that is planned for the heavy machinery transportation and hoisting services engaged by the client.
2. Assessed and tested the internal controls used by the management to recognise revenue based on the stage of completion, including checking the supporting documents of additional or reduced constructions and significant constructions performed in the period.
3. Performed onsite observations of or inquired into major construction projects still in progress at the year end.
4. Performed substantive procedures relating to the year-end construction profit or loss statement, including sampling and verifying the costs incurred in the period against the appropriate evidence, verifying the additional or reduced constructions in the period against the supporting documents and recalculating and confirming that construction revenue calculated based on the stage of completion had been accounted for appropriately.

Impairment assessment of accounts receivable

Description

The Company's net accounts receivable amounted to NT$216,314 thousand, constituting 8.29% of total assets as at December 31, 2023. Refer to Notes 4(8) and (9) for accounting policies, Note 5(2) for the uncertainty of accounting estimates and assumptions in relation to accounts receivable, and Note 6(4) for details.

The Company manages the collections of accounts receivable and overdue accounts and takes on relevant credit risk. The management periodically assesses the credit quality and collection status of customers, and adjusts the credit policies for customers in due course. In addition, impairment assessment of accounts receivable was implemented in accordance with IFRS 9 using the simplified approach to estimate expected credit losses. The management uses the ageing of receivables as of the balance sheet date and the payment history of an individual customer, financial position and economic situation of the customer and many other factors that would affect the payment ability of the customer as well as includes the forward-looking information to assess the default possibility of accounts receivable.

Given that the amount of accounts receivable was material, and the determination of loss rates was subjected to the management's judgement, we consider the estimates of expected credit losses on accounts receivable a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

1. Obtained an understanding of the Company's credit quality control policy in order to evaluate the reasonableness of the Company's expected credit loss provision policies and procedures on accounts receivable.
2. Assessed the appropriateness of provision rate of allowance for accounts receivable through referring to historical loss rate and taking into consideration the forecastability, and obtained and examined relevant data provided by the management.
3. Tested changes in the ageing of accounts receivable and checked the supporting documents relating to due dates of accounts receivable to ascertain the accuracy of the classification for accounts receivable aging.
4. Identified the reasons of past due accounts, examined the subsequent collections and discussed the adequacy of expected credit loss provision policies with the management, in particular for accounts receivable that are overdue and material.

Other matter – Reference to the audits of other auditors

We did not audit the financial statements of certain investments accounted for using the equity method which were audited by other auditors. Therefore, our opinion expressed herein, insofar as it relates to the amounts included in respect of these associates and the information disclosed in Note 13, is based solely on the reports of the other auditors. The balance of these investments accounted for using the equity method amounted to NT$104,481 thousand and NT$105,150 thousand, constituting 4.00% and 4.28% of total assets as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively, and the comprehensive income (loss) recognised from associates and joint ventures accounted for using the equity method amounted to NT($625) thousand and NT($721) thousand, constituting (0.31%) and (0.41%) of total comprehensive income for the years then ended, respectively.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the parent company only financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the parent company only financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of parent company only financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company only financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent company only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the parent company only financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company only financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the parent company only financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Company to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent company only financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

4. Summary of Material Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these parent company only financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

(1) Compliance statement

The parent company only financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

(2) Basis of preparation

A. Except for the following items, the parent company only financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention:

- (a) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income measured at fair value.
- (b) Defined benefit liabilities recognised based on the net amount of pension fund assets less present value of defined benefit obligation.

B. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC[®] Interpretations, and SIC[®] Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the FSC (collectively referred herein as the “IFRSs”) requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Company’s accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the parent company only financial statements are disclosed in Note 5.

(3) Foreign currency translation

Items included in the financial statements of the Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates (the “functional currency”). The parent company only financial statements are presented in New Taiwan dollars, which is the Company’s functional currency.

A. Foreign currency transactions and balances

- (a) Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions or valuation where items are remeasured. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.
- (b) Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the period end are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising upon re-translation at the balance sheet date are recognised in profit or loss.
- (c) Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through profit or loss are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognised in profit or loss. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through other comprehensive income are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognised in other comprehensive income. However, non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are not measured at fair value are translated using the historical exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.
- (d) All foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the statement of comprehensive income within ‘other gains and losses’.

B. Translation of foreign operations

- (a) The operating results and financial position of all the entities that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:
 - i. Assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented are translated at the closing exchange rate at the date of that balance sheet;
 - ii. Income and expenses for each statement of comprehensive income are translated at average exchange rates of that period; and

iii. All resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income.

- (b) When the foreign operation partially disposed of or sold is an associate or joint arrangement, exchange differences that were recorded in other comprehensive income are proportionately reclassified to profit or loss as part of the gain or loss on sale.

(4) Classification of current and non-current items

- A. Assets that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current assets; otherwise they are classified as non-current assets:
- (a) Assets arising from operating activities that are expected to be realised, or are intended to be sold or consumed within the normal operating cycle;
 - (b) Assets held mainly for trading purposes;
 - (c) Assets that are expected to be realised within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
 - (d) Cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash and cash equivalents and those that are to be exchanged or used to settle liabilities more than twelve months after the balance sheet date.
- B. Liabilities that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current liabilities; otherwise they are classified as non-current liabilities:
- (a) Liabilities that are expected to be settled within the normal operating cycle;
 - (b) Liabilities arising mainly from trading activities;
 - (c) Liabilities that are to be settled within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
 - (d) Liabilities for which the repayment date cannot be extended unconditionally to more than twelve months after the balance sheet date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

(5) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash equivalents refer to short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. Time deposits that meet the definition above and are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments in operations are classified as cash equivalents.

(6) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

- A. Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income comprise equity securities which are not held for trading, and for which the Company has made an irrevocable election at initial recognition to recognise changes in fair value in other comprehensive income and debt instruments which meet all of the following criteria:
- (a) The objective of the Company's business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
 - (b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.

C. At initial recognition, the Company measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. The Company subsequently measures the financial assets at fair value:

(a) The changes in fair value of equity investments that were recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to retained earnings and are not reclassified to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investment. Dividends are recognised as revenue when the right to receive payment is established, future economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Company and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

(b) Except for the recognition of impairment loss, interest income and gain or loss on foreign exchange which are recognised in profit or loss, the changes in fair value of debt instruments are taken through other comprehensive income. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to profit or loss.

(7) Financial assets at amortised cost

A. Financial assets at amortised cost are those that meet all of the following criteria:

(a) The objective of the Company's business model is achieved by collecting contractual cash flows.

(b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.

B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at amortised cost are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.

C. At initial recognition, the Company measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest method. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired.

D. The Company's time deposits which do not fall under cash equivalents are those with a short maturity period and are measured at initial investment amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(8) Accounts and notes receivable

A. Accounts and notes receivable entitle the Company a legal right to receive consideration in exchange for transferred goods or rendered services.

B. The short-term accounts and notes receivable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(9) Impairment of financial assets

For debt instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income and financial assets at amortised cost including accounts receivable or contract assets that have a significant financing component and lease receivables, at each reporting date, the Company recognises the impairment provision for 12 months expected credit losses if there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition or recognises the impairment provision for the lifetime expected credit losses (ECLs) if such credit risk has increased since initial recognition after taking into consideration all reasonable and verifiable information that includes forecasts. On the other hand, for accounts receivable or contract assets that do not contain a significant financing component, the Company recognises the impairment provision for lifetime ECLs.

(10) Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire.

(11) Leasing arrangements (lessor) - operating leases

Lease income from an operating lease (net of any incentives given to the lessee) is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(12) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the weighted-average method. The item by item approach is used in applying the lower of cost and net realisable value. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated cost of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

(13) Investments accounted for using equity method - subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures

- A. Subsidiaries are all entities controlled by the Company. The Company controls an entity when the Company is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity.
- B. Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealised gains or losses on transactions between the Company and subsidiaries are eliminated. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Company.
- C. The Company's share of its subsidiaries' post-acquisition profits or losses is recognised in profit or loss, and its share of post-acquisition movements in other comprehensive income is recognised in other comprehensive income. When the Company's share of losses in a subsidiary equals or exceeds its interest in the subsidiary, the Company continues to recognise the losses in proportion to the ownership.
- D. If changes in the Company's shares in subsidiaries do not result in loss in control (transactions with non-controlling interest), transactions shall be considered as equity transactions, which are transactions between owners. Difference of adjustment of non-controlling interest and fair value of consideration paid or received is recognised in equity.
- E. When the Company loses control of a subsidiary, the Company remeasures any investment retained in the former subsidiary at its fair value. That fair value is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition of a financial asset or the cost on initial recognition of the associate or joint venture. Any difference between fair value and carrying amount is recognised in profit or loss. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the subsidiary are reclassified to profit or loss on the same basis as would be required if the related assets or liabilities were disposed of. That is, when the Company loses control of a subsidiary, all gains or losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the subsidiary should be reclassified from equity to profit or loss, if such gains or losses would be reclassified to profit or loss when the related assets or liabilities are disposed of.

- F. Associates are all entities over which the Company has significant influence but not control. In general, it is presumed that the investor has significant influence, if an investor holds, directly or indirectly 20 percent or more of the voting power of the investee. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method and are initially recognised at cost.
- G. The Company's share of its associates' post-acquisition profits or losses is recognised in profit or loss, and its share of post-acquisition movements in other comprehensive income is recognised in other comprehensive income. When the Company's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interest in the associate, including any other unsecured receivables, the Company does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.
- H. When changes in an associate's equity do not arise from profit or loss or other comprehensive income of the associate and such changes do not affect the Company's ownership percentage of the associate, the Company recognises the Company's share of change in equity of the associate in 'capital surplus' in proportion to its ownership.
- I. Unrealised gains on transactions between the Company and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Company's interest in the associates. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of associates have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Company.
- J. In the case that an associate issues new shares and the Company does not subscribe or acquire new shares proportionately, which results in a change in the Company's ownership percentage of the associate but maintains significant influence on the associate, then 'capital surplus' and 'investments accounted for using the equity method' shall be adjusted for the increase or decrease of its share of equity interest. If the above condition causes a decrease in the Company's ownership percentage of the associate, in addition to the above adjustment, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate are reclassified to profit or loss proportionately on the same basis as would be required if the relevant assets or liabilities were disposed of.
- K. When the Company disposes its investment in an associate and loses significant influence over this associate, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate, are reclassified to profit or loss, on the same basis as would be required if the relevant assets or liabilities were disposed of. If it retains significant influence over this associate, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate are reclassified to profit or loss proportionately in accordance with the aforementioned approach.

- L. The Company accounts for its interest in a joint venture using equity method. Unrealised profits and losses arising from the transactions between the Company and its joint venture are eliminated to the extent of the Company's interest in the joint venture. However, when the transaction provides evidence of a reduction in the net realisable value of current assets or an impairment loss, all such losses shall be recognised immediately. When the Company's share of losses in a joint venture equals or exceeds its interest in the joint venture together with any other unsecured receivables, the Company does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture.
- M. Pursuant to the Rules Governing the Preparation of Financial Statements by Securities Issuers, profit (loss) and other comprehensive income of the current period in the parent company only financial statements shall equal to the amount attributable to owners of the parent in the consolidated financial statements. Owners' equity in the parent company only financial statements shall equal to equity attributable to owners of the parent in the consolidated financial statements.

(14) Property, plant and equipment

- A. Property, plant and equipment are initially recorded at cost. Borrowing costs incurred during the construction period are capitalised.
- B. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.
- C. Land is not depreciated. Other property, plant and equipment apply cost model and are depreciated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost over their estimated useful lives. Each part of an item of property, plant, and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item must be depreciated separately.
- D. The assets' residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each financial year-end. If expectations for the assets' residual values and useful lives differ from previous estimates or the patterns of consumption of the assets' future economic benefits embodied in the assets have changed significantly, any change is accounted for as a change in estimate under IAS 8, 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors', from the date of the change. The estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

|--------------------------|---------------|
| Buildings and structures | 10 ~ 60 years |
| Machinery and equipment | 4 ~ 11 years |
| Transportation equipment | 2 ~ 16 years |
| Renatl assets | 9 ~ 16 years |
| Other equipment | 4 ~ 8 years |
| Office equipment | 4 ~ 9 years |

(15) Leasing arrangements (lessee) - right-of-use assets/lease liabilities

A. Leases are recognised as a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Company. For short-term leases or leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

B. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the remaining lease payments at the commencement date, discounted using the incremental borrowing interest rate.

The Company subsequently measures the lease liability at amortised cost using the interest method and recognises interest expense over the lease term. The lease liability is remeasured and the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset when there are changes in the lease term or lease payments and such changes do not arise from contract modifications.

C. At the commencement date, the right-of-use asset is stated at cost comprising the following:

- (a) The amount of the initial measurement of lease liability;
- (b) Any lease payments made at or before the commencement date; and
- (c) Any initial direct costs incurred by the lessee.

The right-of-use asset is measured subsequently using the cost model and is depreciated from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the asset's useful life or the end of the lease term. When the lease liability is remeasured, the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset.

(16) Intangible assets

Intangible assets, mainly computer software, are stated at cost and amortised on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 2 to 3 years.

(17) Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each balance sheet date the recoverable amounts of those assets where there is an indication that they are impaired. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell or value in use. When the circumstances or reasons for recognising impairment loss for an asset in prior years no longer exist or diminish, the impairment loss is reversed. The increased carrying amount due to reversal should not be more than what the depreciated or amortised historical cost would have been if the impairment had not been recognised.

(18) Borrowings

Borrowings comprise long-term and short-term bank borrowings. Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently stated at amortised cost; any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

(19) Notes and accounts payable

- A. Accounts payable are liabilities for purchases of raw materials, goods or services and notes payable are those resulting from operating and non-operating activities.
- B. The short-term notes and accounts payable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(20) Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is either discharged or cancelled or expires.

(21) Employee benefits

A. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in respect of service rendered by employees in a period and should be recognised as expense in that period when the employees render service.

B. Pensions

(a) Defined contribution plans

For defined contribution plans, the contributions are recognised as pension expense when they are due on an accrual basis. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent of a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments.

(b) Defined benefit plans

- i. Net obligation under a defined benefit plan is defined as the present value of an amount of pension benefits that employees will receive on retirement for their services with the Company in current period or prior periods. The liability recognised in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit pension plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date less the fair value of plan assets. The net defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The rate used to discount is determined by using interest rates of high-quality corporate bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid, and that have terms to maturity approximating to the terms of the related pension liability; when there is no deep market in high-quality corporate bonds, the Company uses interest rates of government bonds (at the balance sheet date) instead.
- ii. Remeasurements arising on defined benefit plans are recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise and are recorded as retained earnings.

iii. Past service costs are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

C. Termination benefits

Termination benefits are employee benefits provided in exchange for the termination of employment as a result from either the Company's decision to terminate an employee's employment before the normal retirement date, or an employee's decision to accept an offer of redundancy benefits in exchange for the termination of employment. The Company recognises expense as it can no longer withdraw an offer of termination benefits or it recognises relating restructuring costs, whichever is earlier. Benefits that are expected to be due more than 12 months after balance sheet date shall be discounted to their present value.

D. Employees' compensation and directors' remuneration

Employees' compensation and directors' remuneration are recognised as expense and liability, provided that such recognition is required under legal or constructive obligation and those amounts can be reliably estimated. Any difference between the resolved amounts and the subsequently actual distributed amounts is accounted for as changes in estimates.

(22) Income tax

- A. The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or items recognised directly in equity, in which cases the tax is recognised in other comprehensive income or equity.
- B. The current income tax expense is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the countries where the Company operates and generates taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in accordance with applicable tax regulations. It establishes provisions where appropriate based on the amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities. An additional tax is levied on the unappropriated retained earnings and is recorded as income tax expense in the year the stockholders resolve to retain the earnings.
- C. Deferred tax is recognised, using the balance sheet liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the parent company only balance sheet. However, the deferred tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred tax is provided on temporary differences arising on investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Company and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.

D. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. At each balance sheet date, unrecognised and recognised deferred tax assets are reassessed.

(23) Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or stock options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(24) Dividends

Dividends are recorded in the Company's financial statements in the period in which they are resolved by the Company's shareholders. Cash dividends are recorded as liabilities; stock dividends are recorded as stock dividends to be distributed and are reclassified to ordinary shares on the effective date of new shares issuance.

(25) Revenue recognition

A. Sales of goods

The Company sells liquefied petroleum gas and related products. Sales are recognised when control of the products has transferred, being when the products are delivered to the customer, the customer has full discretion over the products, and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the customer's acceptance of the products. Delivery occurs when the products have been shipped to the specific location, the risks of obsolescence and loss have been transferred to the customer, and either the customer has accepted the products in accordance with the sales contract, or the Company has objective evidence that all criteria for acceptance have been satisfied.

B. Sales of services

- (a) The Company provides machinery transportation and hoisting services. Revenue is calculated based on the stage of completion of the contract activity, using the percentage-of-completion method of accounting, over the contract term. The stage of completion of a contract is measured by the proportion of costs incurred for work performed to date to the estimated total costs for the construction contract. The customer pays at the time specified in the payment schedule. If the services rendered exceed the payment, a contract asset is recognised. If the payments exceed the services rendered, a contract liability is recognised.
- (b) The Company provides container transportation services. If the outcome of a service transaction can be estimated reliably, revenue shall be recognised based on the stage of completion of the transaction at the balance sheet date. Service revenue is recognised based on the proportion of the services performed to the total services to be performed according to the project nature. At the end of the year, the accumulated service revenue is calculated based on the proportion of the actual services performed, and the service revenue to be recognised for the current period is the accumulated service revenue after deducting the accumulated service revenue from the previous period.

(26) Government grants

Government grants are recognised at their fair value only when there is reasonable assurance that the Company will comply with any conditions attached to the grants and the grants will be received. Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Company recognises expenses for the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate.

5. Critical Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Key Sources of Assumption Uncertainty

The preparation of these parent company only financial statements requires management to make critical judgements in applying the Company's accounting policies and make critical assumptions and estimates concerning future events. Assumptions and estimates may differ from the actual results and are continually evaluated and adjusted based on historical experience and other factors. Such assumptions and estimates have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year ; and the related information is addressed below:

(1) Critical judgements in applying the Company's accounting policies

None.

(2) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

A. Revenue recognition

Machinery transportation and hoisting revenue is calculated by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity, using the percentage-of-completion method of accounting, over the contract term. The stage of completion of a construction contract is measured by the proportion of contract costs incurred for the construction performed as of the financial reporting date to the estimated total costs for the construction contract. The aforementioned estimated total costs are assessed based on the estimated construction projects planned for the heavy machinery transportation and hoisting services engaged by the client and the price fluctuations in the market to estimate the costs for each construction activity such as estimated subcontract charges and material and labour expenses. The estimate of total cost affects the stage of completion and the recognition of revenue, and the complexity of aforementioned total cost estimation usually involves subjective judgement and contains a high degree of uncertainty.

B. Impairment assessment of accounts receivable

Impairment assessment of accounts receivable was implemented in accordance with IFRS 9 using the expected credit loss model. The management uses the ageing of receivables as of the balance sheet date and the payment history of an individual customer, financial position and economic situation of the customer and many other factors that would affect the payment ability of the customer as well as includes the forward-looking information to assess the default possibility of accounts receivable and to assess whether accounts receivable would be considered impaired.

(d) The Bank of Taiwan was commissioned to manage the Fund of the Company's defined benefit pension plan in accordance with the Fund's annual investment and utilisation plan and the “Regulations for Revenues, Expenditures, Safeguard and Utilisation of the Labor Retirement Fund” (Article 6: The scope of utilisation for the Fund includes deposit in domestic or foreign financial institutions, investment in domestic or foreign listed, over-the-counter, or private placement equity securities, investment in domestic or foreign real estate securitisation products, etc.). With regard to the utilisation of the Fund, its minimum earnings in the annual distributions on the final financial statements shall be no less than the earnings attainable from the amounts accrued from two-year time deposits with the interest rates offered by local banks. If the earnings is less than aforementioned rates, government shall make payment for the deficit after being authorised by the Regulator. The Company has no right to participate in managing and operating that fund and hence the Company is unable to disclose the classification of plan assets fair value in accordance with IAS 19 paragraph 142. The composition of fair value of plan assets as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 is given in the Annual Labor Retirement Fund Utilisation Report announced by the government.

(e) The principal actuarial assumptions used were as follows:

| | Years ended December 31, | |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|--------|
| | 2023 | 2022 |
| Discount rate | 1.180% | 1.250% |
| Future salary increases | 1.125% | 1.125% |

Assumptions regarding future mortality experience are set based on the 6th Taiwan Standard Ordinary Experience Mortality Table for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Because the main actuarial assumption changed, the present value of defined benefit obligation is affected. The analysis was as follows:

| | Discount rate | | Future salary increases | |
|---|----------------|----------------|-------------------------|----------------|
| | Increase 0.25% | Decrease 0.25% | Increase 1.00% | Decrease 1.00% |
| December 31, 2023 | | | | |
| Effect on present value of defined benefit obligation | ($ 607) | $ 623 | $ 2,584 | ($ 2,386) |
| December 31, 2022 | | | | |
| Effect on present value of defined benefit obligation | ($ 669) | $ 688 | $ 2,890 | ($ 2,653) |

The sensitivity analysis above is based on one assumption which changed while the other conditions remain unchanged. In practice, more than one assumption may change all at once. The method of analysing sensitivity and the method of calculating net pension liability in the balance sheet are the same.

The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to the previous period.

A market is regarded as active where a market in which transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis. The fair value of the Company's investment in listed stocks and beneficiary certificates is included in Level 1.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. The fair value of the Company's investment in derivative instruments is included in Level 2.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. The fair value of the Company's investment in equity investment without active market is included in Level 3.

- B. The carrying amounts of the Company's financial instruments not measured at fair value (including cash and cash equivalents, notes receivable (including related parties), accounts receivable (including related parties), other receivables, long-term notes receivable (including related parties), guarantee deposits paid, other financial assets, short-term borrowings, notes payable (including related parties), accounts payable (including related parties) and other payables (including related parties), lease liabilities (including current portion), long-term borrowings (including current portion) and guarantee deposits received) approximate to their fair values.
- C. The related information of financial instruments measured at fair value by level on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the assets at December 31, 2023 and 2022 are as follows:
- (a) The related information of natures of the assets is as follows:

| December 31, 2023 | Level 1 | Level 2 | Level 3 | Total |
|---|------------------|----------------|------------------|------------------|
| Assets: | | | | |
| Recurring fair value measurements | | | | |
| Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income | | | | |
| Equity securities | $ 17,220 | $ - | $ 79,762 | $ 96,982 |
| | $ 17,220 | $ - | $ 79,762 | $ 96,982 |

| December 31, 2022 | Level 1 | Level 2 | Level 3 | Total |
|---|------------------|----------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Assets: | | | | |
| Recurring fair value measurements | | | | |
| Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income | | | | |
| Equity securities | $ 19,560 | $ - | $ 85,762 | $ 105,322 |
| | $ 19,560 | $ - | $ 85,762 | $ 105,322 |

- (b) The methods and assumptions the Company used to measure fair value are as follows:
- The instruments the Company used market quoted prices as their fair values (that is, Level 1) are listed below by characteristics:

| | Listed shares |
|---------------------|----------------------|
| Market quoted price | Closing price |

- Except for financial instruments with active markets, the fair value of other financial instruments is measured by using valuation techniques or by reference to counterparty quotes. The fair value of financial instruments measured by using valuation techniques can be referred to current fair value of instruments with similar terms and characteristics in substance, discounted cash flow method or other valuation methods, including calculated by applying model using market information available at the consolidated balance sheet date.

- iii. When assessing non-standard and low-complexity financial instruments, for example, debt instruments without active market, interest rate swap contracts, foreign exchange swap contracts and options, the Company adopts valuation technique that is widely used by market participants. The inputs used in the valuation method to measure these financial instruments are normally observable in the market.
 - iv. For high-complexity financial instruments, the fair value is measured by using self-developed valuation model based on the valuation method and technique widely used within the same industry. The valuation model is normally applied to derivative financial instruments, debt instruments with embedded derivatives or securitised instruments. Certain inputs used in the valuation model are not observable at market, and the Company must make reasonable estimates based on its assumptions.
 - v. The valuation of derivative financial instruments is based on valuation model widely accepted by market participants, such as present value techniques and option pricing models. Forward exchange contracts are usually valued based on the current forward exchange rate.
 - vi. The output of valuation model is an estimated value and the valuation technique may not be able to capture all relevant factors of the Company's financial and non-financial instruments. Therefore, the estimated value derived using valuation model is adjusted accordingly with additional inputs, for example, model risk or liquidity risk and etc. In accordance with the Company's management policies and relevant control procedures relating to the valuation models used for fair value measurement, management believes adjustment to valuation is necessary in order to reasonably represent the fair value of financial and non-financial instruments at the consolidated balance sheet. The inputs and pricing information used during valuation are carefully assessed and adjusted based on current market conditions.
 - vii. The Company takes into account adjustments for credit risks to measure the fair value of financial and non-financial instruments to reflect credit risk of the counterparty and the Company's credit quality.
- D. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, there was no transfer between Level 1 and Level 2.
- E. The following chart is the movement of Level 3 for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022:

| | 2023 | |
|--|--|---------------|
| | Equity instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income | |
| At January 1 | $ | 85,762 |
| Sold in the year | (| 6,000) |
| At December 31 | $ | 79,762 |
| | 2022 | |
| | Equity instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income | |
| At January 1 | $ | 93,199 |
| Gains and losses recognised in other comprehensive income | | |
| Recorded as unrealised gains (losses) on valuation of investments in equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income | (| 7,437) |
| At December 31 | $ | 85,762 |

- F. Financial segment is in charge of valuation procedures for fair value measurements being categorised within Level 3, which is to verify independent fair value of financial instruments. Such assessment is to ensure the valuation results are reasonable by applying independent information to make results close to current market conditions, confirming the resource of information is independent, reliable and in line with other resources and represented as the exercisable price, and frequently calibrating valuation model, performing back-testing, updating inputs used to the valuation model and making any other necessary adjustments to the fair value.
- G. The following is the qualitative information of significant unobservable inputs and sensitivity analysis of changes in significant unobservable inputs to valuation model used in Level 3 fair value measurement:

| | Fair value at December 31, 2023 | Valuation technique | Significant unobservable input | Range (weighted average) | Relationship of inputs to fair value |
|---|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--|--------------------------------|---|
| Non-derivative equity instrument: Unlisted shares | $ 79,762 | Discounted cash flow | Weighted average cost of capital | 4.16% | The higher the weighted average cost of capital, the lower the fair value |
| | | | Discount for lack of marketability | 30% | The higher the discount for lack of marketability, the lower the fair value |
| | Fair value at December 31, 2022 | Valuation technique | Significant unobservable input | Range (weighted average) | Relationship of inputs to fair value |
| Non-derivative equity instrument: Unlisted shares | $ 6,000 | Market comparable companies | Discount for lack of marketability | 30% | The higher the discount for lack of marketability, the lower the fair value |
| Unlisted shares | 79,762 | Discounted cash flow | Weighted average cost of capital | 4.16% | The higher the weighted average cost of capital, the lower the fair value |
| | | | Discount for lack of marketability | 30% | The higher the discount for lack of marketability, the lower the fair value |

H. The Company has carefully assessed the valuation models and assumptions used to measure fair value. However, use of different valuation models or assumptions may result in different measurement. The following is the effect of profit or loss or of other comprehensive income from financial assets categorised within Level 3 if the inputs used to valuation models have changed:

| | | December 31, 2023 | | |
|--------------------|--|---|--------------------------|----------------------------|
| | | Recognised in other comprehensive income | | |
| | Input | Change | Favourable change | Unfavourable change |
| Financial assets | | | | |
| Equity instruments | Discount for lack of marketability, weighted average cost of capital | ±1 | $ 798 | ($ 798) |
| | | December 31, 2022 | | |
| | | Recognised in other comprehensive income | | |
| | Input | Change | Favourable change | Unfavourable change |
| Financial assets | | | | |
| Equity instruments | Discount for lack of marketability, weighted average cost of capital | ±1 | $ 858 | ($ 858) |

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TRANSLATED FROM CHINESE

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Sea & Land Integrated Corp.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Sea & Land Integrated Corp. and its subsidiaries (the “Group”) as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, based on our audits and the reports of other auditors (please refer to the Other matter section), the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Group's 2023 consolidated financial statements. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Group's 2023 consolidated financial statements are stated as follows:

Machinery transportation and hoisting revenue recognition - assessment on the stage of completion

Description

The Group's machinery transportation and hoisting revenue amounted to NT$ 565,705 thousand, constituting 31.37 % of operating revenue for the year ended December 31, 2023. Refer to Note 4(31) for the accounting policy on revenue recognition; Note 5(2) for the uncertainty of accounting estimates and assumptions in relation to revenue recognition and Note 6(19) for details.

The Group's heavy machinery transportation and hoisting revenue is calculated by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity, using the percentage-of-completion method of accounting, over the contract term. The stage of completion of a construction contract is measured by the proportion of contract costs incurred for the construction performed as of the financial reporting date to the estimated total costs for the construction contract. The aforementioned estimated total costs are assessed based on the estimated construction projects, which are planned for the heavy machinery transportation and hoisting services engaged by the client, and the price fluctuations in the market to estimate the costs for each construction activity such as estimated subcontract charges and material and labour expenses.

Given that the estimate of total cost affects the stage of completion and the recognition of revenue, and the complexity of aforementioned total cost estimation usually involves subjective judgement and contains a high degree of uncertainty, we consider the assessment on the stage of completion applied on revenue recognition a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

1. Obtained an understanding on the nature of the Group's business and industry, and assessed the consistency of the estimate method and the internal process applied to estimate total cost, including the process for estimating the costs for each construction project (subcontract charges and material and labour expenses) that is planned for the heavy machinery transportation and hoisting services engaged by the client.
2. Assessed and tested the internal controls used by the management to recognise revenue based on the stage of completion, including checking the supporting documents of additional or reduced constructions and significant constructions performed in the period.
3. Performed onsite observations of or inquired into major construction projects still in progress at the year end.
4. Performed substantive procedures relating to the year-end construction profit or loss statement, including sampling and verifying the costs incurred in the period against the appropriate evidence, verifying the additional or reduced constructions in the period against the supporting documents and recalculating and confirming that construction revenue calculated based on the stage of completion had been accounted for appropriately.

Impairment assessment of accounts receivable

Description

The Group's net accounts receivable amounted to NT$ 223,819 thousand, constituting 7.99 % of total assets as at December 31, 2023. Refer to Notes 4(10) and (11) for accounting policies, Note 5(2) for the uncertainty of accounting estimates and assumptions in relation to accounts receivable, and Note 6(5) for details.

The Group manages the collections of accounts receivable and overdue accounts and takes on relevant credit risk. The management periodically assesses the credit quality and collection status of customers, and adjusts the credit policies for customers in due course. In addition, impairment assessment of accounts receivable was implemented in accordance with IFRS 9 using the simplified approach to estimate expected credit losses. The management uses the ageing of receivables as of the balance sheet date and the payment history of an individual customer, financial position and economic situation of the customer and many other factors that would affect the payment ability of the customer as well as includes the forward-looking information to assess the default possibility of accounts receivable.

Given that the amount of accounts receivable was material, and the determination of loss rates was subjected to the management's judgement, we consider the estimates of expected credit losses on accounts receivable a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

1. Obtained an understanding of the Group's credit quality control policy in order to evaluate the reasonableness of the Group's expected credit loss provision policies and procedures on accounts receivable.
2. Assessed the appropriateness of provision rate of allowance for accounts receivable through referring to historical loss rate and taking into consideration the forecastability, and obtained and examined relevant data provided by the management.
3. Tested changes in the ageing of accounts receivable and checked the supporting documents relating to due dates of accounts receivable to ascertain the accuracy of the classification for accounts receivable aging.
4. Identified the reasons of past due accounts, examined the subsequent collections and discussed the adequacy of expected credit loss provision policies with the management, in particular for accounts receivable that are individually assessed to be material.

Other matter – Reference to the audits of other auditors

We did not audit the financial statements of certain consolidated subsidiaries and investments accounted for using the equity method which were audited by other auditors. Therefore, our opinion expressed herein, insofar as it relates to the amounts included in respect of these subsidiaries and an associate and the information disclosed in Note 13, is based solely on the reports of the other auditors. Total assets, including the investments accounted for using the equity method, of those consolidated subsidiaries and an associate amounted to NT$ 108,828 thousand and NT$ 109,798 thousand, constituting 3.88% and 4.20% of the consolidated total assets as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively, total operating revenues amounted to NT$ 1,859 thousand and NT$ 1,945 thousand, constituting 0.10% and 0.10% of the consolidated total operating revenues for the years then ended, respectively, and the comprehensive income (loss) recognised from investments accounted for using the equity method amounted to NT($302) thousand and NT($305) thousand, constituting (0.15%) and (0.16%) of the consolidated total comprehensive income for the years then ended, respectively.

Other matter – Parent company only financial reports

We have audited and expressed an unqualified opinion with other matter section on the parent company only financial statements of Sea & Land Integrated Corp. as at and for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

4. Summary of Material Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

(1) Compliance statement

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with the “Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers”, International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC[®] Interpretations, and SIC[®] Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the FSC (collectively referred herein as the “IFRSs”).

(2) Basis of preparation

A. Except for the following items, the consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention:

- (a) Financial assets and financial liabilities (including derivative instruments) at fair value through profit or loss.
 - (b) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income.
 - (c) Defined benefit liabilities recognised based on the net amount of pension fund assets less present value of defined benefit obligation.
- B. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 5.

(3) Basis of consolidation

A. Basis for preparation of consolidated financial statements:

- (a) All subsidiaries are included in the Group's consolidated financial statements. Subsidiaries are all entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Consolidation of subsidiaries begins from the date the Group obtains control of the subsidiaries and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiaries.
- (b) Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealised gains or losses on transactions between companies within the Group are eliminated. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.
- (c) Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income is attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.
- (d) Changes in a parent's ownership interest in a subsidiary that do not result in the parent losing control of the subsidiary (transactions with non-controlling interests) are accounted for as equity transactions, i.e. transactions with owners in their capacity as owners. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity.
- (e) When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the Group remeasures any investment retained in the former subsidiary at its fair value. That fair value is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition of a financial asset or the cost on initial recognition of the associate or joint venture. Any difference between fair value and carrying amount is recognised in profit or loss. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the subsidiary are reclassified to profit or loss on the same basis as would be required if the related assets or liabilities were disposed of. That is, when the Group loses control of a subsidiary, all gains or losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the subsidiary should be reclassified from equity to profit or loss, if such gains or losses would be reclassified to profit or loss when the related assets or liabilities are disposed of.

(4) Foreign currency translation

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The consolidated financial statements are presented in New Taiwan Dollars, which is the Company's functional and the Group's presentation currency.

A. Foreign currency transactions and balances

Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

- (c) Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through profit or loss are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognised in profit or loss. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through other comprehensive income are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognised in other comprehensive income. However, non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are not measured at fair value are translated using the historical exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.
- (d) All foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the statement of comprehensive income within 'other gains and losses'.

B. Translation of foreign operations

- (a) The operating results and financial position of all the entities that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:
 - i. Assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented are translated at the closing exchange rate at the date of that balance sheet;
 - ii. Income and expenses for each statement of comprehensive income are translated at average exchange rates of that period; and
 - iii. All resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income.
- (b) When the foreign operation partially disposed of or sold is an associate or joint arrangement, exchange differences that were recorded in other comprehensive income are proportionately reclassified to profit or loss as part of the gain or loss on sale.

(5) Classification of current and non-current items

- A. Assets that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current assets; otherwise they are classified as non-current assets:
 - (a) Assets arising from operating activities that are expected to be realised, or are intended to be sold or consumed within the normal operating cycle;
 - (b) Assets held mainly for trading purposes;
 - (c) Assets that are expected to be realised within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
 - (d) Cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash and cash equivalents and those that are to be exchanged or used to settle liabilities more than twelve months after the balance sheet date.
- B. Liabilities that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current liabilities; otherwise they are classified as non-current liabilities:
 - (a) Liabilities that are expected to be settled within the normal operating cycle;
 - (b) Liabilities arising mainly from trading activities;
 - (c) Liabilities that are to be settled within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
 - (d) Liabilities for which the repayment date cannot be extended unconditionally to more than twelve months after the balance sheet date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

(6) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash equivalents refer to short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. Time deposits that meet the definition above and are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments in operations are classified as cash equivalents.

(7) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

- A. Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets that are not measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial assets at fair value and recognises the transaction costs in profit or loss. The Group subsequently measures the financial assets at fair value, and recognises the gain or loss in profit or loss.
- D. The Group recognises the dividend income when the right to receive payment is established, future economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

(8) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

- A. Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income comprise equity securities which are not held for trading, and for which the Group has made an irrevocable election at initial recognition to recognise changes in fair value in other comprehensive income and debt instruments which meet all of the following criteria:
 - (a) The objective of the Group's business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
 - (b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. The Group subsequently measures the financial assets at fair value:
 - (a) The changes in fair value of equity investments that were recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to retained earnings and are not reclassified to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investment. Dividends are recognised as revenue when the right to receive payment is established, future economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.
 - (b) Except for the recognition of impairment loss, interest income and gain or loss on foreign exchange which are recognised in profit or loss, the changes in fair value of debt instruments are taken through other comprehensive income. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to profit or loss.

(9) Financial assets at amortised cost

- A. Financial assets at amortised cost are those that meet all of the following criteria:
 - (a) The objective of the Group's business model is achieved by collecting contractual cash flows.
 - (b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.

- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at amortised cost are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest method. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired.
- D. The Group's time deposits which do not fall under cash equivalents are those with a short maturity period and are measured at initial investment amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(10) Accounts and notes receivable

- A. Accounts and notes receivable entitle the Group a legal right to receive consideration in exchange for transferred goods or rendered services.
- B. The short-term accounts and notes receivable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(11) Impairment of financial assets

For debt instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income and financial assets at amortised cost including accounts receivable or contract assets that have a significant financing component at each reporting date, the Group recognises the impairment provision for 12 months expected credit losses if there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition or recognises the impairment provision for the lifetime expected credit losses (ECLs) if such credit risk has increased since initial recognition after taking into consideration all reasonable and verifiable information that includes forecasts. On the other hand, for accounts receivable or contract assets that do not contain a significant financing component, the Group recognises the impairment provision for lifetime ECLs.

(12) Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire.

(13) Leasing arrangements (lessor) - operating leases

Lease income from an operating lease (net of any incentives given to the lessee) is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(14) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the weighted-average method. The item by item approach is used in applying the lower of cost and net realisable value. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

(15) Investments accounted for using equity method - associates

- A. Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but not control. In general, it is presumed that the investor has significant influence, if an investor holds, directly or indirectly 20 percent or more of the voting power of the investee. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method and are initially recognised at cost.
- B. The Group's share of its associates' post-acquisition profits or losses is recognised in profit or loss, and its share of post-acquisition movements in other comprehensive income is recognised in other comprehensive income. When the Group's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interest in the associate, including any other unsecured receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.
- C. When changes in an associate's equity do not arise from profit or loss or other comprehensive income of the associate and such changes do not affect the Group's ownership percentage of the associate, the Group recognises the Group's share of change in equity of the associate in 'capital surplus' in proportion to its ownership.
- D. Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the associates. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of associates have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.
- E. In the case that an associate issues new shares and the Group does not subscribe or acquire new shares proportionately, which results in a change in the Group's ownership percentage of the associate but maintains significant influence on the associate, then 'capital surplus' and 'investments accounted for using the equity method' shall be adjusted for the increase or decrease of its share of equity interest. If the above condition causes a decrease in the Group's ownership percentage of the associate, in addition to the above adjustment, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate are reclassified to profit or loss proportionately on the same basis as would be required if the relevant assets or liabilities were disposed of.
- F. When the Group disposes its investment in an associate and loses significant influence over this associate, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate, are reclassified to profit or loss, on the same basis as would be required if the relevant assets or liabilities were disposed of. If it retains significant influence over this associate, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the associate are reclassified to profit or loss proportionately in accordance with the aforementioned approach.

(16) Joint operation and investment accounted for using equity method - joint ventures

The Group accounts for its interest in a joint venture using equity method. Unrealised profits and losses arising from the transactions between the Group and its joint venture are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the joint venture. However, when the transaction provides evidence of a reduction in the net realisable value of current assets or an impairment loss, all such losses shall be recognised immediately. When the Group's share of losses in a joint venture equals or exceeds its interest in the joint venture together with any other unsecured receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture.

(17) Property, plant and equipment

- A. Property, plant and equipment are initially recorded at cost. Borrowing costs incurred during the construction period are capitalised.
- B. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.
- C. Land is not depreciated. Other property, plant and equipment apply cost model and are depreciated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost over their estimated useful lives. Each part of an item of property, plant, and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item must be depreciated separately.
- D. The assets' residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each financial year-end. If expectations for the assets' residual values and useful lives differ from previous estimates or the patterns of consumption of the assets' future economic benefits embodied in the assets have changed significantly, any change is accounted for as a change in estimate under IAS 8, 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors', from the date of the change. The estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

|--------------------------|---------------|
| Buildings and structures | 10 ~ 60 years |
| Machinery and equipment | 4 ~ 20 years |
| Transportation equipment | 2 ~ 16 years |
| Rental assets | 9 ~ 16 years |
| Other equipment | 4 ~ 20 years |
| Office equipment | 4 ~ 9 years |

(18) Leasing arrangements (lessee) - right-of-use assets/ lease liabilities

A. Leases are recognised as a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Group. For short-term leases or leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

B. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the remaining lease payments at the commencement date, discounted using the incremental borrowing interest rate.

The Group subsequently measures the lease liability at amortised cost using the interest method and recognises interest expense over the lease term. The lease liability is remeasured and the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset when there are changes in the lease term or lease payments and such changes do not arise from contract modifications.

C. At the commencement date, the right-of-use asset is stated at cost comprising the following:

- (a) The amount of the initial measurement of lease liability;
- (b) Any lease payments made at or before the commencement date; and
- (c) Any initial direct costs incurred by the lessee.

The right-of-use asset is measured subsequently using the cost model and is depreciated from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the asset's useful life or the end of the lease term.

When the lease liability is remeasured, the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset.

(19) Investment property

An investment property is stated initially at its cost and measured subsequently using the cost model. Except for land, investment property is depreciated on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 24 years.

(20) Intangible assets

A. Licences

Separately acquired licences is stated at historical cost. Licences has a finite useful life and is amortised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 20 years.

B. Computer software

Computer software is stated at cost and amortised on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 2 to 3 years.

(21) Impairment of non-financial assets

The Group assesses at each balance sheet date the recoverable amounts of those assets where there is an indication that they are impaired. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell or value in use. When the circumstances or reasons for recognising impairment loss for an asset in prior years no longer exist or diminish, the impairment loss is reversed. The increased carrying amount due to reversal should not be more than what the depreciated or amortised historical cost would have been if the impairment had not been recognised.

(22) Borrowings

Borrowings comprise long-term and short-term bank borrowings. Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently stated at amortised cost; any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

(23) Notes and accounts payable

- A. Accounts payable are liabilities for purchases of raw materials, goods or services and notes payable are those resulting from operating and non-operating activities.
- B. The short-term notes and accounts payable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(24) Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

- A. Financial liabilities are classified in this category of held for trading if acquired principally for the purpose of repurchasing in the short-term. Derivatives are also categorised as financial liabilities held for trading unless they are designated as hedges.
- B. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial liabilities at fair value. All related transaction costs are recognised in profit or loss. The Group subsequently measures these financial liabilities at fair value with any gain or loss recognised in profit or loss.

(25) Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is either discharged or cancelled or expires.

(26) Non-hedging derivatives

Non-hedging derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and recorded as financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. They are subsequently remeasured at fair value and the gains or losses are recognised in profit or loss.

(27) Employee benefits

A. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in respect of service rendered by employees in a period and should be recognised as expense in that period when the employees render service.

B. Pensions

(a) Defined contribution plans

For defined contribution plans, the contributions are recognised as pension expense when they are due on an accrual basis. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent of a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments.

(b) Defined benefit plans

- i. Net obligation under a defined benefit plan is defined as the present value of an amount of pension benefits that employees will receive on retirement for their services with the Group in current period or prior periods. The liability recognised in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit pension plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date less the fair value of plan assets. The net defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The rate used to discount is determined by using interest rates of high-quality corporate bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid, and that have terms to maturity approximating to the terms of the related pension liability; when there is no deep market in high-quality corporate bonds, the Group uses interest rates of government bonds (at the balance sheet date) instead.
- ii. Remeasurements arising on defined benefit plans are recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise and are recorded as retained earnings.
- iii. Past service costs are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

C. Termination benefits

Termination benefits are employee benefits provided in exchange for the termination of employment as a result from either the Group's decision to terminate an employee's employment before the normal retirement date, or an employee's decision to accept an offer of redundancy benefits in exchange for the termination of employment. The Group recognises expense as it can no longer withdraw an offer of termination benefits or it recognises relating restructuring costs, whichever is earlier. Benefits that are expected to be due more than 12 months after balance sheet date shall be discounted to their present value.

D. Employees' compensation and directors' remuneration

Employees' compensation and directors' remuneration are recognised as expense and liability, provided that such recognition is required under legal or constructive obligation and those amounts can be reliably estimated. Any difference between the resolved amounts and the subsequently actual distributed amounts is accounted for as changes in estimates.

(28) Income tax

- A. The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or items recognised directly in equity, in which cases the tax is recognised in other comprehensive income or equity.
- B. The current income tax expense is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the countries where the Group operates and generates taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in accordance with applicable tax regulations. It establishes provisions where appropriate based on the amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities. An additional tax is levied on the unappropriated retained earnings and is recorded as income tax expense in the year the stockholders resolve to retain the earnings.
- C. Deferred tax is recognised, using the balance sheet liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated balance sheet. However, the deferred tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences. Deferred tax is provided on temporary differences arising on investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.
- D. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. At each balance sheet date, unrecognised and recognised deferred tax assets are reassessed.

(29) Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or stock options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(30) Dividends

Dividends are recorded in the Company's financial statements in the period in which they are resolved by the Company's shareholders. Cash dividends are recorded as liabilities; stock dividends are recorded as stock dividends to be distributed and are reclassified to ordinary shares on the effective date of new shares issuance.

(31) Revenue recognition

A. Sales of goods

The Group sells liquefied petroleum gas, wine and related products. Sales are recognised when control of the products has transferred, being when the products are delivered to the customer, the customer has full discretion over the products, and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the customer's acceptance of the products. Delivery occurs when the products have been shipped to the specific location, the risks of obsolescence and loss have been transferred to the customer, and either the customer has accepted the products in accordance with the sales contract, or the Group has objective evidence that all criteria for acceptance have been satisfied.

B. Sales of services

(a) The Group provides machinery transportation and hoisting services. Revenue is calculated based on the stage of completion of the contract activity, using the percentage-of-completion method of accounting, over the contract term. The stage of completion of a contract is measured by the proportion of costs incurred for work performed to date to the estimated total costs for the construction contract. The customer pays at the time specified in the payment schedule. If the services rendered exceed the payment, a contract asset is recognised. If the payments exceed the services rendered, a contract liability is recognised.

(b) The Group provides container transportation services. If the outcome of a service transaction can be estimated reliably, revenue shall be recognised based on the stage of completion of the transaction at the balance sheet. Service revenue is recognised based on the proportion of the services performed to the total services to be performed according to the project nature. At the end of the period, the accumulated service revenue is calculated based on the proportion of the actual services performed, and the service revenue to be recognised for the current period is the accumulated service revenue after deducting the accumulated service revenue from the previous period.

(32) Government grants

Government grants are recognised at their fair value only when there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with any conditions attached to the grants and the grants will be received. Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises expenses for the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate.

(33) Operating segments

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-maker. The Group's chief operating decision-maker, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments.

5. Critical Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Key Sources of Assumption Uncertainty

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires management to make critical judgements in applying the Group's accounting policies and make critical assumptions and estimates concerning future events. Assumptions and estimates may differ from the actual results and are continually evaluated and adjusted based on historical experience and other factors. Such assumptions and estimates have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year; and the related information is addressed below:

(1) Critical judgements in applying the Group's accounting policies

None.

(2) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

A. Revenue recognition

Machinery transportation and hoisting revenue is calculated by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity, using the percentage-of-completion method of accounting, over the contract term. The stage of completion of a construction contract is measured by the proportion of contract costs incurred for the construction performed as of the financial reporting date to the estimated total costs for the construction contract. The aforementioned estimated total costs are assessed based on the estimated construction projects planned for the heavy machinery transportation and hoisting services engaged by the client and the price fluctuations in the market to estimate the costs for each construction activity such as estimated subcontract charges and material and labor expenses. The estimate of total cost affects the stage of completion and the recognition of revenue, and the complexity of aforementioned total cost estimation usually involves subjective judgement and contains a high degree of uncertainty.

B. Impairment assessment of accounts receivable

Impairment assessment of accounts receivable was implemented in accordance with IFRS 9 using the expected credit loss model. The management uses the ageing of receivables as of the balance sheet date and the payment history of an individual customer, financial position and economic situation of the customer and many other factors that would affect the payment ability of the customer as well as includes the forward-looking information to assess the default possibility of accounts receivable and to assess whether accounts receivable would be considered impaired.

(15) Pensions (shown as 'other non-current liabilities')

A. (a) The Company and its domestic subsidiary have a defined benefit pension plan in accordance with the Labor Standards Act, covering all regular employees' service years prior to the enforcement of the Labor Pension Act on July 1, 2005 and service years thereafter of employees who chose to continue to be subject to the pension mechanism under the Labor Standards Act. Under the defined benefit pension plan, two units are accrued for each year of service for the first 15 years and one unit for each additional year thereafter, subject to a maximum of 45 units. Pension benefits are based on the number of units accrued and the average monthly salaries and wages of the last 6 months prior to retirement. The Company contributes monthly an amount equal to 8%~12% of the employees' monthly salaries and wages to the retirement fund deposited with Bank of Taiwan, the trustee, under the name of the independent retirement fund committee. Also, the Company would assess the balance in the aforementioned labor pension reserve account by December 31, every year. If the account balance is insufficient to pay the pension calculated by the aforementioned method to the employees expected to qualify for retirement in the following year, the Company will make contributions for the deficit by next March.

(b) The amounts recognised in the balance sheet are as follows:

(d) The Bank of Taiwan was commissioned to manage the Fund of the Company's defined benefit pension plan in accordance with the Fund's annual investment and utilisation plan and the "Regulations for Revenues, Expenditures, Safeguard and Utilisation of the Labor Retirement Fund" (Article 6: The scope of utilisation for the Fund includes deposit in domestic or foreign financial institutions, investment in domestic or foreign listed, over-the-counter, or private placement equity securities, investment in domestic or foreign real estate securitisation products, etc.). With regard to the utilisation of the Fund, its minimum earnings in the annual distributions on the final financial statements shall be no less than the earnings attainable from the amounts accrued from two-year time deposits with the interest rates offered by local banks. If the earnings is less than aforementioned rates, government shall make payment for the deficit after being authorised by the Regulator. The Company has no right to participate in managing and operating that fund and hence the Company is unable to disclose the classification of plan assets fair value in accordance with IAS 19 paragraph 142. The composition of fair value of plan assets as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 is given in the Annual Labor Retirement Fund Utilisation Report announced by the government.

(e) The principal actuarial assumptions used were as follows:

| | Years ended December 31, | |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|--------|
| | 2023 | 2022 |
| Discount rate | 1.180% | 1.250% |
| Future salary increases | 1.125% | 1.125% |

Assumptions regarding future mortality experience are set based on the 6th Taiwan Standard Ordinary Experience Mortality Table for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Because the main actuarial assumption changed, the present value of defined benefit obligation is affected. The analysis was as follows:

| | Discount rate | | Future salary increases | |
|---|-------------------|-------------------|-------------------------|-------------------|
| | Increase 0.25% | Decrease 0.25% | Increase 1.00% | Decrease 1.00% |
| December 31, 2023 | | | | |
| Effect on present value of defined benefit obligation | ($ 607) | $ 623 | $ 2,584 | ($ 2,386) |
| December 31, 2022 | | | | |
| Effect on present value of defined benefit obligation | ($ 669) | $ 688 | $ 2,890 | ($ 2,653) |

The sensitivity analysis above is based on one assumption which changed while the other conditions remain unchanged. In practice, more than one assumption may change all at once. The method of analysing sensitivity and the method of calculating net pension liability in the balance sheet are the same.

The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to the previous period.

| 2-5 years | | 2,232 |
| 5-10 years | | 820 |

B. Financial risk management policies

- (a) The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. To minimise any adverse effects on the financial performance of the Group, derivative financial instruments, such as foreign exchange forward contracts, are used to hedge certain exchange rate risk, and interest rate swaps are used to fix variable future cash flows. Derivatives are used exclusively for hedging purposes and not as trading or speculative instruments.
- (b) The Group's significant financial activities are reviewed by the Board of Directors in accordance with related regulations and internal control system. In the period of executing financial plan, the Group should follow related financial operational procedures in relation to whole financial risk management and separation of rights and responsibilities.
- (c) For the information on the derivative financial instruments that the Group enters into, refer to Note 6(2).

C. Significant financial risks and degrees of financial risks

(a) Market risk

Exchange rate risk

- i. The Group's businesses involve some non-functional currency operations (the Company's and part of its subsidiaries' functional currency: NTD, part of its subsidiaries' functional currency: VND). The information on assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies whose values would be materially affected by the exchange rate fluctuations is as follows:

| December 31, 2023 | | | |
|--|----------------------------|---------------|---------------------|
| (Foreign currency: functional currency) | Foreign currency amount | | Book value (NTD) |
| | (In thousands) | Exchange rate | |
| Financial assets | | | |
| Monetary items | | | |
| USD : NTD | $ 1,000 | 30.71 | $ 30,710 |
| Financial liabilities | | | |
| Monetary items | | | |
| USD : VND | $ 1,000 | 24,667 | $ 30,710 |
| EUR : NTD | 140 | 33.98 | 4,743 |

| December 31, 2022 | | | |
|--|----------------------------|---------------|---------------------|

| Financial liabilities | | | |
| Monetary items | | | |
| USD : VND | $ 1,000 | 23,899 | $ 30,710 |

- ii. The total exchange (loss) gain, including realised and unrealised, arising from significant foreign exchange variation on the monetary items held by the Group for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, amounted to ($1,180) and ($1,992), respectively.
- iii. Analysis of foreign currency market risk arising from significant foreign exchange variation:

| Year ended December 31, 2023 | | | |
|--|----------------------|--------------------------------|-----|
| (Foreign currency: functional currency) | Sensitivity analysis | | |
| | Degree of variation | Effect on profit or loss (NTD) | |
| Financial assets | | | |

| USD:NTD | 1% | $ | 307 |
| Financial liabilities | | | |

| USD:NTD | 1% | $ 307 |
| Financial liabilities | | |
| Monetary items | | |
| USD:VND | 1% | $ 307 |

Price risk

- i. The Group's equity securities, which are exposed to price risk, are the held financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income. To manage its price risk arising from investments in equity securities, the Group diversifies its portfolio. Diversification of the portfolio is done in accordance with the limits set by the Group.
- ii. The Group's investments in equity securities comprise shares issued by the domestic companies. The prices of equity securities would change due to the change of the future value of investee companies. If the prices of these equity securities had increased/decreased by 1% with all other variables held constant, post-tax profit for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 would have increased/decreased all were $0, as a result of gains/losses on equity securities classified as at fair value through profit or loss. Other components of equity would have increased/decreased by $971 and $1,054, respectively, as a result of other comprehensive income classified as equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income.

Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

- i. The Group's interest rate risk arises from short-term and long-term borrowings. Borrowings issued at variable rates expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk which is partially offset by cash held at variable rates. Borrowings issued at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk. During 2023 and 2022, the Group's borrowings at variable rate were mainly denominated in New Taiwan dollars, Euro, Great Britain Pound and United States dollar.
 - ii. For borrowings held by the Group at floating rates which was not expected to have significant changes, there were no significant risks in floating rates.
- (b) Credit risk
- i. Credit risk refers to the risk of financial loss to the Group arising from default by the clients or counterparties of financial instruments on the contract obligations. The main factor is that counterparties could not repay in full the accounts receivable based on the agreed terms.

- ii. The Group manages their credit risk taking into consideration the entire group's concern. For banks and financial institutions, only independently rated parties with a minimum rating of 'A' are accepted. According to the Group's credit policy, each local entity in the Group is responsible for managing and analysing the credit risk for each of their new clients before standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. Internal risk control assesses the credit quality of the customers, taking into account their financial position, past experience and other factors. Individual risk limits are set based on internal or external ratings in accordance with limits set by the Board of Directors. The utilisation of credit limits is regularly monitored.
- iii. The Group adopts following assumptions under IFRS 9 to assess whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on that instrument since initial recognition:
If the contract payments were past due over 30 days based on the terms, there has been a significant increase in credit risk on that instrument since initial recognition.
- iv. If the credit rating grade of an investment target degrades two scales, there has been a significant increase in credit risk on that instrument since initial recognition.
- v. The Group adopts the assumptions under IFRS 9, the default occurs when the contract payments are past due over 90 days.
- vi. The Group classifies customers' accounts receivable in accordance with credit risk on trade. The Group applies the modified approach using a provision matrix to estimate the expected credit loss.
- vii. The Group wrote-off the financial assets, which cannot be reasonably expected to be recovered, after initiating recourse procedures. However, the Group will continue executing the recourse procedures to secure their rights. On December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Group's written-off financial assets that are still under recourse procedures amounted to $5 and $324, respectively.
- viii. The Group used the forecastability of Taiwan Institute of Economic Research boom observation report to adjust historical and timely information to assess the default possibility of notes receivable, accounts receivable and contract assets. On December 31, 2023 and 2022, the loss rate methodology is as follows:

| | Individual | Group | Total |
|--------------------------|------------|--------------|------------|
| December 31, 2023 | | | |
| Expected loss rate | 100% | 0.06%~96.89% | |
| Total book value | $ 318 | $ 276,590 | $ 276,908 |
| Loss allowance | $ 318 | $ - | $ 318 |
| | Individual | Group | Total |
| December 31, 2022 | | | |
| Expected loss rate | 100% | 0.05%~87.88% | |
| Total book value | $ 318 | $ 317,418 | $ 317,736 |
| Loss allowance | $ 318 | $ - | $ 318 |

- ix. Movements in relation to the Group applying the modified approach to provide loss allowance for accounts receivable are as follows:

| | 2023 | |
|---|----------------------------|------------|
| | Accounts receivable | |
| At January 1 | $ | 318 |
| Provision for impairment loss | | 5 |
| Amounts written off due to irrecoverability | (| 5) |
| December 31 | $ | 318 |
| | 2022 | |
| | Accounts receivable | |
| At January 1 | $ | 642 |
| Amounts written off due to irrecoverability | (| 324) |
| December 31 | $ | 318 |

The Group's impairment loss of accounts receivable all arose from customers' contract.

(c) Liquidity risk

- i. Cash flow forecasting is performed in the operating entities of the Group and aggregated by Group treasury. Group treasury monitors rolling forecasts of the Group's liquidity requirements to ensure it has sufficient cash to meet operational needs. Such forecasting takes into consideration the Group's debt financing plans, covenant compliance, compliance with internal balance sheet ratio targets.
- ii. The Group has the following undrawn borrowing facilities:

| | December 31, 2023 | December 31, 2022 |
|--------------------------|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| Expiring within one year | $ 443,237 | $ 408,855 |

- iii. The table below analyses the Group's non-derivative financial liabilities and net-settled or gross-settled derivative financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date for non-derivative financial liabilities and to the expected maturity date for derivative financial liabilities.

| December 31, 2023 | Less than one year | Over one year | Total |
|---|-------------------------------|--------------------------|--------------|
| Non-derivative financial liabilities | | | |
| Short-term borrowings | $ 203,350 | $ - | $ 203,350 |

| Short-term borrowings | $ 50,500 | $ - | $ 50,500 |
| Notes and accounts payable (including related parties) | 252,105 | - | 252,105 |
| Other payables (including related parties) | 111,898 | 289 | 112,187 |
| Lease liabilities (including current portion) | 13,132 | 17,490 | 30,622 |
| Long-term borrowings (including current portion) | 93,016 | 181,415 | 274,431 |
| Guarantee deposits received | 8,727 | - | 8,727 |

- iv. The Group does not expect the timing of occurrence of the cash flows estimated through the maturity date analysis will be significantly earlier, nor expect the actual cash flow amount will be significantly different.

(3) Fair value information

A. The different levels that the inputs to valuation techniques are used to measure fair value of financial and non-financial instruments have been defined as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date. A market is regarded as active where a market in which transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis. The fair value of the Group's investment in listed stocks and beneficiary certificates is included in Level 1.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. The fair value of the Group's investment in derivative instruments is included in Level 2.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. The fair value of the Group's investment in equity investment without active market is included in Level 3.

- B. Fair value information of investment property at cost is provided in Note 6(11).
- C. The carrying amounts of the Group's financial instruments not measured at fair value (including cash and cash equivalents, notes receivable (including related parties), accounts receivable (including related parties), long-term notes receivable (including related parties), guarantee deposits paid, other financial assets (shown as other non-current financial assets), short-term borrowings, notes payable (including related parties), accounts payable (including related parties), other payables (including related parties), lease liabilities (including current portion), long-term borrowings (including current portion) and guarantee deposits received) approximate to their fair values.
- D. The related information of financial instruments measured at fair value by level on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the assets at December 31, 2023 and 2022 are as follows:
- (a) The related information of natures of the assets is as follows:

| December 31, 2023 | Level 1 | Level 2 | Level 3 | Total |

|---|------------------|----------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Assets: | | | | |

| Derivative instruments | $ - | $ 2 | $ - | $ 2 |
| Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income | | | | |
| Equity securities | 19,680 | - | 85,762 | 105,442 |
| | $ 19,680 | $ 2 | $ 85,762 | $ 105,444 |

- (b) The methods and assumptions the Group used to measure fair value are as follows:
- i. The instruments the Group used market quoted prices as their fair values (that is, Level 1) are listed below by characteristics:

| | Listed shares |
|---------------------|----------------------|
| Market quoted price | Closing price |

- ii. Except for financial instruments with active markets, the fair value of other financial instruments is measured by using valuation techniques or by reference to counterparty quotes. The fair value of financial instruments measured by using valuation techniques can be referred to current fair value of instruments with similar terms and characteristics in substance, discounted cash flow method or other valuation methods, including calculated by applying model using market information available at the consolidated balance sheet date.
- iii. When assessing non-standard and low-complexity financial instruments, for example, debt instruments without active market, interest rate swap contracts, foreign exchange swap contracts and options, the Group adopts valuation technique that is widely used by market participants. The inputs used in the valuation method to measure these financial instruments are normally observable in the market.
- iv. For high-complexity financial instruments, the fair value is measured by using self-developed valuation model based on the valuation method and technique widely used within the same industry. The valuation model is normally applied to derivative financial instruments, debt instruments with embedded derivatives or securitised instruments. Certain inputs used in the valuation model are not observable at market, and the Group must make reasonable estimates based on its assumptions.
- v. The valuation of derivative financial instruments is based on valuation model widely accepted by market participants, such as present value techniques and option pricing models. Forward exchange contracts are usually valued based on the current forward exchange rate.

- vi. The output of valuation model is an estimated value and the valuation technique may not be able to capture all relevant factors of the Group's financial and non-financial instruments. Therefore, the estimated value derived using valuation model is adjusted accordingly with additional inputs, for example, model risk or liquidity risk and etc. In accordance with the Group's management policies and relevant control procedures relating to the valuation models used for fair value measurement, management believes adjustment to valuation is necessary in order to reasonably represent the fair value of financial and non-financial instruments at the consolidated balance sheet. The inputs and pricing information used during valuation are carefully assessed and adjusted based on current market conditions.
- vii. The Group takes into account adjustments for credit risks to measure the fair value of financial and non-financial instruments to reflect credit risk of the counterparty and the Group's credit quality.
- E. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, there was no transfer between Level 1 and Level 2.
- F. The following chart is the movement of Level 3 for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022:

| | 2023 | 2022 |
|--|---|---|
| | Equity instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income | Equity instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income |
| At January 1 | $ 85,762 | $ 93,199 |
| Gains and losses recognised in other comprehensive income | | |
| Recorded as unrealised gains (losses) on valuation of investments in equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income | - | (7,437) |
| Sold in the year | (6,000) | - |
| At December 31 | $ 79,762 | $ 85,762 |

- G. Financial segment is in charge of valuation procedures for fair value measurements being categorised within Level 3, which is to verify independent fair value of financial instruments. Such assessment is to ensure the valuation results are reasonable by applying independent information to make results close to current market conditions, confirming the resource of information is independent, reliable and in line with other resources and represented as the exercisable price, and frequently calibrating valuation model, performing back-testing, updating inputs used to the valuation model and making any other necessary adjustments to the fair value.

H. The following is the qualitative information of significant unobservable inputs and sensitivity analysis of changes in significant unobservable inputs to valuation model used in Level 3 fair value measurement:

| | Fair value at December 31, 2023 | Valuation technique | Significant unobservable input | Range (weighted average) | Relationship of inputs to fair value |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------|--------------------------------------|--------------------------------|---|
| Non-derivative equity instrument: | | | | | |
| Unlisted shares | $ 79,762 | Discounted cash flow | Weighted average cost of capital | 4.16% | The higher the weighted average cost of capital, the lower the fair value |
| | | | Discount for lack of marketability | 30.00% | The higher the discount for lack of marketability, the lower the fair value |
| | Fair value at December 31, 2022 | Valuation technique | Significant unobservable input | Range (weighted average) | Relationship of inputs to fair value |
| Non-derivative equity instrument: | | | | | |
| Unlisted shares | $ 6,000 | Market comparable companies | Discount for lack of marketability | 30.00% | The higher the discount for lack of marketability, the lower the fair value |
| Unlisted shares | 79,762 | Discounted cash flow | Weighted average cost of capital | 4.16% | The higher the weighted average cost of capital, the lower the fair value |
| | | | Discount for lack of marketability | 30.00% | The higher the discount for lack of marketability, the lower the fair value |

I. The Group has carefully assessed the valuation models and assumptions used to measure fair value. However, use of different valuation models or assumptions may result in different measurement. The following is the effect of profit or loss or of other comprehensive income from financial assets categorised within Level 3 if the inputs used to valuation models have changed:

| | | December 31, 2023 | | |
|--------------------|--|---|--------------------------|----------------------------|
| | | Recognised in other comprehensive income | | |
| | Input | Change | Favourable change | Unfavourable change |
| Financial assets | | | | |
| Equity instruments | Discount for lack of marketability, weighted average cost of capital | ±1 | $ 798 | ($ 798) |
| | | December 31, 2022 | | |
| | | Recognised in other comprehensive income | | |
| | Input | Change | Favourable change | Unfavourable change |
| Financial assets | | | | |
| Equity instruments | Discount for lack of marketability, weighted average cost of capital | ±1 | $ 858 | ($ 858) |

14. Operating Segment Information

(1) General information

Management has determined the reportable operating segments based on the reports reviewed by the chief operating decision-maker that are used to make strategic decisions.

Since more than 90% of the Group's revenue and operations are arising from Taiwan, considering that the Group's chief operating decision-maker makes strategic decisions from a product type perspective, the information on the Group's operating segments will be presented in a product type, and would not disclose geographical information separately. The Group currently focuses on four business group, including transportation business, machinery transportation and hoisting business, LPG station business, and imports of foreign wine business. The operating scales of the other segments are not included in the reportable segments because they do not meet the quantitative thresholds for reportable segments as required by IFRS 8. The remaining segments are consolidated and disclosed under "Other segments", including rental income from the general affairs segment, warehouse rental income from the transportation and warehousing segment, and electricity retailing income from the power plants.

(2) Measurement of segment information

- A. The Group's chief operating decision-maker evaluates the performance of the operating segments based on the segments revenue and segments net operating profit or loss. This measurement basis excludes the effects of non-recurring expenditure from the operating segments such as goodwill impairments (when the impairment is the result of an isolated, non-recurring event), gains and losses on disposal of fixed assets, gains and losses on disposals of investments, the effects of unrealised valuation gain or loss of financial assets, interest income and interest expenses are also not classified to operating segments, as this type of activity is managed by the Group's treasury segment.
- B. The accounting policies of operating segments are consistent with the accounting policies stated in Note 4 in the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023.

(3) Information about segment profit or loss, assets and liabilities
